

Actor, Farmer, Dancer to Dine With Queen

MAURICE RICHARD
... sport

OTTAWA (CP)—Governor-General Massey has invited 35 Canadians from all walks of life to have dinner with Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip at Government House July 1.

Except for the formal dress—white tie for the men and gowns for the women—the affair sounds as though it will be another Dominion Day family dinner.

The formal attire is the Queen's own idea. She wants to dress up for Dominion Day. But there's nothing about the guest list that suggests stiff-necked formality.

It includes a hard-rock hockey star, a gentle ballerina, a tough labor leader, a couple of missionaries, an actor, an atomic scientist, a woman fish-packer, a president of a big corporation, a champion skier, a newspaperman and a university president.

An announcement from Government House said today the guests were invited by Mr. Massey, on behalf of the Queen. This suggests that Mr. Massey—who is said to know all the guests except one—prepared the list, with an eye to keeping the dinner "en famille" for the Queen and some of her Canadian subjects.

The guests, a government official said, represent not the titular heads of various organizations as such, but Canadians who do the work and—in some cases—provide the spark for the various fields of Canadian activity.

The list includes only two from official circles—Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Opposition Leader Pearson, and their wives.

Industry: Fraser Bruce, president of the Aluminum Company of Canada, and Mrs. Bruce, Montreal; A. E. Grauer, chairman and president of the British Columbia Power Corporation Limited, and Mrs. Grauer, Vancouver; Mrs. G. Penny, owner of a fish packing plant and fishing fleet, Ramea Island, Nfld.

Universities: Claude Bissell, president of the University of Toronto, and Mrs. Bissell, Toronto.

Painting: Lawren Harris, one of the famed Group of Seven, and Mrs. Harris, Vancouver.

dent of the Parliamentary Press Gallery, and Mrs. McCook, Ottawa.

Letters: Robertson Davies, author of many books and plays and editor of the Peterborough Examiner, and Mrs. Davies, Peterborough, Ont.

Labor: Claude Jodoin, president of the Canadian Labor Congress, and Mrs. Jodoin, Ottawa.

Medicine: Dr. J. B. Jobin, dean of medicine, Laval University, and Mrs. Jobin, Quebec City.

Sport: Maurice Richard, high-scoring star of Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League, and Mrs.

Richard, Montreal; Anne Hegglveit, ski champion, Ottawa. Science: Dr. David A. Keys, scientific adviser to the president of Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, and Mrs. Keys, Deep River, Ont.

The North: Rev. J. Biname, Roman Catholic missionary at Fort Norman, N.W.T.; and Right Rev. T. Greenwood, Anglican Bishop of the Yukon, and Mrs. Greenwood, Whitehorse, Y.T.

Music: Lois Marshall, soprano, Toronto.

Ballet: Celia Franca, ballerina and director of the National Ballet of Canada, Toronto.

Farming: Howard Hymas, mixed farmer, and Mrs. Hymas, Rosebud, Alta.

Mr. Hymas is the only guest Mr. Massey has not met personally in the past.

Civic Ceremony On Beacon Hill

Queen Elizabeth will receive Victoria district civic leaders in one of the area's prime beauty spots—the crest of Beacon Hill—rather than at City Hall during the two-day royal visit here in July.

Later, from the vantage point of Government House, the Queen and Prince Philip will watch units of the Canadian Navy create a fireworks wonderland in Strait of Juan de Fuca.

Both spectacles are planned for fullest appreciation of the public as well.

Full details of the royal visit to Victoria, July 16 and 17 were obtained by The Times today.

The royal couple, after arriving on the Island at Nanaimo aboard HMCS Assiniboine, will drive over the Malahat to arrive in Victoria at 3.30 p.m. Thursday, July 16. They will proceed directly to Government House and remain there until 5 p.m.

At 5.10 p.m. the Queen and Prince Philip will arrive at the Legislative Buildings where Premier W. A. C. Bennett will greet them on the steps. The royal party will enter the buildings to receive cabinet ministers and MLAs in the Legislative Assembly.

The ceremonies are expected to take 20 minutes. The royal couple there will walk to a saluting base on Belleville Street.

The walk will take Her Majesty past the monument commemorating her great-grandmother Queen Victoria.

A tri-service military parade will take place with the royal party scheduled to depart at 6.15 p.m., for a tour of the city.

Route will be via Belleville and Government to Herald.

LONG-ARMED BOOKIE GROUNDED

HARRIS, N. J. (AP)—A crane operator at the Otis Elevator Company plant has been charged with picking up numbers bets as he passed overhead in the cab of his crane.

Allan P. Hawkins, 48, was arrested Monday and charged with possession of lottery slips.

Police said Hawkins would pick up the bets as he rode the crane through the shops, lowering a tin cup on a string to employees to place their bets.

FIRE CHIEF DISPUTED

(See Also Page 5)
VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Point Grey marine radio station and the United States coast guard in Seattle said today they received two SOS messages from the Norwegian freighter when the Norwegian freighter was hit by an explosion that tore apart her midsection.

Vancouver Fire Chief Hugh Bird and his deputy, Elmer Sly, told city council here Tuesday night that the vessel did not send out an SOS, only a call for aid.

Chief Bird, who said he was unable to send the city fireboat outside limits because of regulations and red tape, told council in a special report that two other vessels passed by the Ferngulf at the time of the incident.

Commenting today, Thomas How, department of transport regional director of air services, said many ships do not keep their radios tuned to the 500-kilocycle distress frequency while in port.

U.S. Ban On Trucks Tightened

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Trucking Associations said today that products from the British crown colony of Hong Kong cannot be trucked through United States territory on trips between Canadian points if any part of the goods originated in Communist China.

This is the latest development in a Canada-United States controversy over transportation of goods from Communist China through the U.S. between points in Canada. The federal government has protested a U.S. ban on such shipments.

John Magee, secretary of the truckers body, said American foreign assets control regulations stipulate that Hong Kong goods must carry a "certificate of origin" stating that not only the goods but the raw materials in them must be a product of the British colony.

He said certificates are not issued if any part of the goods originated in Red China.

SOS Signals Heard From Norwegian Ship

(See Also Page 5)

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Point Grey marine radio station and the United States coast guard in Seattle said today they received two SOS messages from the Norwegian freighter when the Norwegian freighter was hit by an

2½-MILL TAX BOOST FOR CITY

City council was expected to strike a tax rate of 50 mills today, up some 2½ mills from 1958.

The surprisingly low increase—a six-mill boost was forecast—would reflect entirely the jump in school costs this year over which council has no control.

Virtually no increase in the general purpose rate was expected after aldermen slashed $49,000 from the estimates this morning.

A total of about $90,000, equivalent to one mill, was to come off the ordinary expenditures and a further 2½-mill cut on special expenditures was anticipated.

DANGER SPOT

SEPTIC TANK POLLUTION

Health Hazard Faces Saanich
Pollution of soil and water in open ditches is spreading like a "cancer" in all non-sewer urban areas of Saanich—creating a serious health hazard.

This warning was issued today by Neville Life, municipal engineer. Conditions for the spread of enteric diseases, including typhoid, exist in all densely populated areas not serviced by a sewer system, he said.

The engineer, who conducted an extensive survey on municipal sewerage, advocates in a report to council, the installation of sewers in all urban areas of the municipality.

"The problem of pollution due to septic tank effluent is serious and becoming difficult to cope with," he said. "The only answer is sewer installations."

He reported that hundreds of home owners are complaining of septic tank effluent.

What they outlaw Saanich sewers need is an underground organization. It's just nip an' tuck whether y' git yer income tax rebate in time I pay yer property tax.

Hope they counted th' sponges b'fore they closed up all them downtown roadway incisions.

CANADA OKAYS USAF GENERAL AS NORAD BOSS

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Pearson today announced the Canadian government's concurrence in the appointment of Gen. Laurence S. Kuter of the United States Air Force as commander of NORAD.

Kuter, 53, former commander of the Far East Air Forces, succeeds Gen. Earle E. Partridge, who retires July 31. The appointment was made by President Eisenhower with the Canadian government's concurrence.

Mr. Pearson said Air Marshal C. R. Slemon of the RCAF will continue as deputy commander of the North American Air Defence Command.

NEEDS A QUEEN

Sad Shah Lonely?

LONDON (UPI)—The Shah of Iran rode through London today in a Cinderella-style coach. But the seat beside him was empty, perhaps symbolic of a vacant throne and an empty heart.

A king needs a queen and this fact was never more evident than in the Shah's elegant procession of state from Buckingham Palace to the Guildhall of London.

The 39-year-old monarch waved and smiled with courtly dignity at the crowds of Londoners who turned out to greet him on the second day of his state visit here. But there was a glimmer of sadness on the Shah's handsome face.

He did not look at the empty seat on his left even when acknowledging the applause of the sidewalk watchers.

Grandmother Attacked

NEW YORK (AP)—A 62-year-old grandmother said a young Negro tried to rape her in her home today. The 62-year-old grandmother said she was revenging the lynch-murder of Mack Charles Parker in Mississippi. She told police she fought him off and that he fled after gagging and tying her with her stockings and robbing her of $35.

COMMONS ORDERS PROBE

'Fantastic' Moving Bill

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons public accounts committee decided today to call witnesses in an effort to find out why it cost $314 to have an RCAF officer's furniture and effects moved half a mile.

Richard A. Bell (PC, Carleton) said the amount is "simply outrageous."

"The last time I moved it cost me $25, and I went farther than half a mile," said Mr. Bell.

"This type of thing is just wasting the taxpayer's money."

The committee was discussing a case mentioned in the auditor-general's last report

Aid Period Up to 52 Weeks

OTTAWA (CP)—The cost of unemployment insurance is going up.

Under proposed government amendments, premiums on the insurance will rise about 30 per cent from present weekly contributions. Weekly rates of benefit—the maximum you can draw weekly if unemployed—will remain virtually unchanged.

These and other changes, expanding the army of insured workers and increasing the maximum length of insurance, are incorporated in government legislation now before the Commons.

Cost of the weekly premiums are borne on a 50-50 basis by the employer and employee.

The bill, made public today, shows, for example, that total contributions for a person earning $51 a week would be 72 cents instead of the present 56. The weekly rate of benefit would remain at $21 a week for a single person and $30 a week for a person with dependents. Rates of contributions are increased all along the line.

CONCESSIONS
But the concessions that will aid employees include an increase in the maximum length of insurance to 52 weeks from 36 and an increased allowance for incidental earnings without reducing the rate of benefits.

The array of insurable wage-earners would be expanded to those making a maximum of $5,460 a year from the present ceiling of $4,800.

Another change is that unemployment insurance protection would be extended to prison inmates serving up to two years. This protection now is available to those serving only up to 44 weeks.

CAN DRAW MORE

The proposed new scale of benefits shows that the maximum weekly amount a person can draw when unemployed will be increased to $36 from $30 for an employee with dependents and to $27 from $23 for a single worker. This rise is to cover the new category of insured workers—those earning between $4,800 and $5,460 a year.

But the scale also shows that the average payments in contributions will have to be higher, just to maintain the existing scale of benefits for the average worker.

For example, the present weekly contribution is 58 to 60 cents to buy maximum weekly insurance of $23 for a single worker and $30 for a worker with dependents.

RATE TABLE

OTTAWA (CP)—Here is a comparison of the proposed schedule of weekly unemployment insurance contributions with present contributions in brackets:

Weekly wages of less than $9—10 cents (8); wages of $9 and under $15—20 (16); wages of $15 and under $21—30 (24); wages of $21 and under $27—38 (30); wages of $27 and under $33—46 (36); wages of $33 and under $39—54 (42); wages of $39 and under $45—60 (48); wages of $45 and under $51—66 (52); wages of $51 and under $57—72 (56); wages of $57 and under $63—78 (60); $63 and under $69—86 (new category); $69 and over—94 (new category).

U.K. Tips Trade Balance

LONDON (CP)—For the first time since 1865, British exports to the United States exceeded imports in March.

Ever since that year—when Lee surrendered to Grant ending the American Civil War and President Lincoln was assassinated—the balance of British-American trade has been in favor of the United States.

But an announcement Tuesday night by the official British board of trade reversed this pattern.

Its figures showed Britain sold the U.S. goods valued at $28,164,901 ($78,861,722) in March. In return Britain bought only $24,547,683 ($68,733,514) worth.

This one-month trade surplus wiped out the deficit of January and February and put Britain ahead $7,321,492 at the end of the first quarter of this year's British-American trade.

Tax-Sharing Parley

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming informed the Commons today that he has proposed Monday, July 6, as the opening date for a federal-provincial conference of finance ministers on tax-sharing arrangements.

Teamsters' Merger?

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times says the 85,000-member Bakery and Confectionery Workers International Union may merge with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters headed by James R. Hoffa.

20,000 Huts Flooded

CARACAS, Venezuela (Reuters)—Big floods in northwest Venezuela today were threatening the country's key oil centre in the Maracaibo basin. Fed by 72 hours of continuous torrential rains, the floods have inundated 20,000 huts.

U.S., B.C. LICENCE OFFERED BY SPEEDER

An American motorist offered both a British Columbia and an American driver's licence to Magistrate A. C. Sutton in Duncan police court for endorsement after pleading guilty to a charge of speeding on the Trans-Canada Highway.

"I'm up here a lot, so I thought I'd get a licence," said George Weltach of Los Angeles. The magistrate chose the B.C. licence.

Magistrate Sutton also refused to accept a $10 instalment on his $25 fine, saying he had to "pay up or go to the pokey," Weltach said.

The magistrate fined a 17-year-old Lake Cowichan logger $25 and suspended his licence for three months after the youth admitted driving at 69 miles per hour while being chased by police.

"You're not fit to be on the road," he told the driver, who was on his way to Chemainus to face further charges. "What you were doing was a suicide job."

Chant Dismisses Chief Architect

Chief architect for the provincial government, Clive Campbell, has been dismissed from his post by Public Works Minister W. N. Chant.

Mr. Campbell, who served also as deputy minister of public works until last August, when that post was given to Arnold Webb, was senior planner for new Government House and the new Victoria court house. His salary was $11,460 per year.

Mr. Chant said the firing was in the interest of "greater efficiency in the department." He said Mr. Campbell has been given a six-month leave of absence.

NO STATEMENT

Mr. Campbell said he had "no statement to make at this time."

Mr. Chant said the position of chief architect will remain vacant for the present due to a reorganization of his department.

The weight of responsibility for architectural planning in the meantime falls upon supervising architect W. R. H. Curtis.

But where various other departments in public works were responsible to Mr. Campbell, under the new arrangement, each sub-department will be responsible now directly to the deputy minister.

DOESN'T FIT

Mr. Chant said: "For greater efficiency in the department, I've found it necessary some reorganization be undertaken and that Mr. Campbell does not suitably fit into the reorganization."

"I have in mind that the control of construction should not be pyramided under the architects. Other facets of the department will be placed on the same level."

The departments that will report separately to the deputy minister now are structural engineers, chemical engineers and supervision and maintenance.

"The reorganization will bring greater efficiency and will be better co-ordinated in the architects section and the continuity will be better organized," Mr. Chant added.

Mr. Campbell joined the department 28 years ago as a student architect. He served with the Royal Canadian Engineers in the Second World War. He is a former vice-president of the Architectural Institute of B.C.

Aldermen Talk and Talk But Only Cut $26,500

By JOHN MIKA

Wide-ranging debates interrupted city council's budget deliberations Tuesday.

But all the arguing only produced cuts of $26,500, bringing the total reduction to $39,000 by the end of the day.

The cut represents slightly less than half a mill squeezed out of the record $9,228,984 provisional budget which calls for a six-mill increase over last year's 47.5 rate.

Reductions in the ordinary expenditures and an expected drastic cut in special expenditures could lower the increase to two or 2 1/4 mills.

NOTHING DONE

Various aldermen suggested eliminating the city's street lighting department, fire box alarms, the 9 p.m. curfew whistle and Burnside firehall but nothing was done.

Other suggestions included reducing garbage collections and cutting car allowances from 10 to 7 cents a mile for civic employees using their own automobiles on city business.

Ald. A. F. Curtis proposed that the once weekly garbage collection should be reduced in frequency but council was told that a similar move brought a storm of protest two years ago and forced the city to return to the present frequency.

Aldermen also approved street lighting estimates and tabled a bid by Hume and Rumble Ltd. to do the work for $87,722. City controller said the city's own staff was doing the work for $83,000.

However, Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow, a strong supporter of the Hume and Rumble bid, claimed the company could save $13,000 for the city. The bid was turned over to public works committee for study and report.

The only suggestion for an expansion of the city's operations came from Ald. Elmer McEwen.

"We should get into the fire insurance business and let the premiums pay for our fire department service," he said, complaining that the $565,385 fire department budget was passed without a single item cut.

WRONG PEOPLE

"I think the wrong people are paying (for the service) and I'm going to do something about it," he said. "We should sell the insurance if we are going to protect our property."

Ald. McEwen said that the Burnside Firehall should be closed as an economy measure. He said it was not needed because the new main firehall was in a central location.

However, council overruled him after it was told the Burnside hall protects Victoria West, the sawmill and industrial reserve areas and assists in covering the downtown area.

Ald. Edgelow fought a vain battle to abolish the city's fire box alarms, even though Fire Chief James Bayliss said the street alarms relayed only one-fifth of all fire alarms and of that number "99 per cent are false alarms."

The chief pointed out that eliminating all the box alarms would increase fire insurance rates. He also said that in some cases the box alarms saved lives and were worth their maintenance cost of $4,500 annually.

$100 CURFEW

Entire council was irritated by a Municipal Act requirement that a 9 p.m. curfew whistle should be blown daily. It costs the city $100 a year.

"It's absolutely stupid," said Ald. D. J. Proudfoot. "It's wasted money; nobody pays any attention to it," added Mayor Scurrah. "Nobody goes home at 9 p.m. anyway," snorted Ald. Edgelow.

But council decided it could not violate a law, so the $100 item passed again.

Ald. Mooney said the city's car allowance should be cut to seven cents a mile—the rate allowed by one local company for employees with small cars.

He said city employees could buy themselves small cars if they could not get by with the seven-cent rate.

Kidd Advice Divides Stockmen

(From Duncan Bureau)

Statements by livestock commissioner Dr. A. S. Kidd, on the needs of sheep breeders in the Cowichan-Gulf Islands area have drawn mixed reactions from officials of stockmen's groups.

Speaking at a field day at the property of R. H. M. Shaw, Norcross Road, Duncan, he advised breeders to use scientific methods and machinery to improve stock and production. At present sheepmen meet only 10 per cent of the British Columbia demand, he said.

Large commercial herds and feed lots to fatten animals would help British Columbia breeders to compete with Australian imports, he said.

D. D. Fisher, Fulford Harbor, said the answer was to produce the same size and strain of sheep as the Australians, "to meet the demands by packers for smaller, leaner lambs, which consumers want".

Dr. Kidd's suggestions were "pure nonsense," he said. A. W. T. Evans, secretary-treasurer of the British Columbia "Purebred Sheepbreeders' Association, defended Mr. Kidd.

ACROSS B.C.

Fever Hits Third Victim; Milk Blamed

(From CP Dispatches)

TRAIL—A third victim of undulant fever, a disease carried by unpasteurized milk, was discovered here Tuesday.

Trail-Tadanac hospital officials reported a district man had been admitted suffering from the disease. A 14-year-old boy contracted the fever last week and another case was reported in March.

A herd of dairy cattle, believed the source of the infection, had been destroyed.

Alderman F. E. Devito, chairman of Trail city's council health department, said the dairy which supplied raw milk had not been inspected by federal government veterinarian.

A bylaw permitting the sale of "raw" or unpasteurized milk in the city was approved two years ago, Ald. Devito said.

Under provincial statutes, only pasteurized milk can be sold in a municipality until a "raw" milk bylaw has been adopted.

TAXES CUT

PENTICTON—General taxes were cut by four mills here this year despite an increase of more than $1,000,000 in over-all city expenditures to a record $3,440,176.

MYSTERY FLASH

PRINCE GEORGE—Ground observer corps officials Tuesday had no explanation for a high altitude flash and explosion that shook several homes in the Endako area, 100 miles west of here, last Wednesday.

Twelve persons in the area reported the incident. Some said they saw something fall from the sky following the explosion. Officials said there were no planes in the area at the time.

LIQUOR PLEBISCITE

CHILLWACK—City council will hold a plebiscite on granting cocktail licences here. No date was set.

In 1954, voters defeated a similar plebiscite 1,260 to 422. The city now has two licensed beer parlors.

RANCH SOLD

KAMLOOPS—The Nicola ranch 50 miles south of here has been sold to George Parker of San Antonio, Texas, the Nicola Lake Stock Farm Limited announced Tuesday.

The sale included the 35,600-acre ranch, 2,200 head of cattle and 1,200 breeding ewes. Price was not disclosed.

WIDE-OPEN SHOPPING?

VANCOUVER—A special civic committee is expected to recommend wide-open, six-day-a-week shopping for Vancouver when it brings down a report later this month.

Nobel Winner Dies

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Carlos Saavedra Lamas, winner of the Nobel Peace Prize in 1936, died Tuesday. He was a former foreign minister of Argentina. He was 80.

"It was the kind of deal described to me as legitimate," Ted Thackrey told the Senate rackets committee, "but I regarded it as a shakedown and was ashamed of my own part in it."

Political Appointment Charge Hurlled by CCF

(From Times News Services)

OTTAWA—A trade unionist MP says the government is trying to ram a political appointment to the Unemployment Insurance Commission down labor's throat.

Murdo Martin, CCF member for Timmins and former officer of the Provincial Federation of Ontario Professional Fire Fighters, made the charge Tuesday night about the appointment of Alastair F. MacArthur of Toronto as labor representative on the commission.

Liberal spokesman Paul Martin, Essex East, also entered the dispute, describing as "regrettable" Labor Minister Starr's reference to three other nominees for the $13,000-a-year post as having political affiliation not with the Progressive Conservatives.

The former Liberal health minister said Mr. Starr acted in an arrogant fashion in refusing to set up a meeting between Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Claude Jodoin, president of the Canadian Labor Congress who has protested the government's appointment of Mr. MacArthur rather than one of the CLC's three nominees.

Move to Drop Smoke Tax Hike Beaten

A Liberal move to eliminate the increase in the cigarette tax was defeated 121 to 28 by the Progressive Conservative majority.

The vote, in which the CCF sided with the Liberals, came as the House considered various tax and tariff changes proposed in Finance Minister Fleming's April 9 budget.

The vote was held after Deputy Speaker Pierre Sevigny ruled — over the objections of Mr. Fleming that only a member of the government could propose changes affecting government finances — that the Liberal amendment was in order.

Canadians have "nothing to be proud of" in many a dealing with the Indians, the Senate was told Tuesday night as it agreed unanimously to

The MacArthur fight grew out of debate on the unemployment insurance legislation with Paul Martin reiterating his party's charge that Mr. Starr failed to comply with the requirement to consult labor on such appointment before they are made.

Simply telling the labor organization that the government regards a particular individual as being qualified for the job is not consultation as required by the Unemployment Insurance Act, he said.

"This section means that the government must really consult labor organizations, ascertain their opinions but not give the impression that the government has made up its mind."

Regarding Mr. Starr's comment Tuesday about the CLC nominees, Mr. Martin said Mr. Starr "might well have left out the fact that the recommended persons did not belong to the political group which he so staunchly supports. That was a regrettable position for the minister of labor to take."

the establishment of a joint Senate-Commons committee to study Indian affairs.

Senator Ralph Horner (P.C., Saskatchewan) said he often wonders why the Indian retains as much confidence as he does in his white brother.

Canada started to handle Indian problems in the wrong way 100 years ago, added Senator T. A. Crerar (L., Manitoba), who was in charge of Indian affairs as a cabinet minister in the mid-1930s.

Senator Thomas Reid says if certain questions are to be asked in the next Canadian census "I would advise anybody in my household to slam the door" on the questioner.

The Liberal senator from B.C. said that census takers apparently "will want to know something about the mother's fertility, her marriage-age and the number of babies she has had, and not only the wages but all the earnings of the breadwinner."

OLD FRIENDS IN HOSPITAL

Tragic Scenes For Churchill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Everybody tried to be cheerful in the quiet sick rooms as Sir Winston Churchill tapped his cane along the hospital corridors with President Eisenhower at his side.

But well-wishing could not diminish the tragic scenes they found when the president, 68, and his distinguished visitor, 84, went to call at Walter Reed Army Medical Centre Tuesday afternoon.

They saw Gen. George Catlett Marshall, 78, U.S. army chief of staff in the Second World War, lying motionless and virtually speechless, the victim of a stroke.

Then they saw John Foster Dulles, 73, the secretary of state who only a few months ago soared across oceans in jet tanker planes. Tuesday, Dulles, who is fighting the ravages of cancer, was in a wheel chair when his friends came to visit.

Sir Winston, who moves with some difficulty himself because of what the president called the wear and tear of time, walked to the foot of Marshall's bed and chatted with the five-star general's wife for about two minutes.

Mrs. Marshall assured the former prime minister that her husband was delighted to see him. Marshall recognized Churchill, but was unable to converse with him.

The meeting with Dulles lasted 17 minutes. White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said it was the first time to his knowledge that it was known that Dulles "has to use a wheel chair." The state department said later that Dulles still could walk and used the wheel chair as a matter of convenience.

PRIVATE CHAT

For a few minutes, the president, Churchill and Dulles chatted privately.

Tuesday night, Eisenhower entertained Churchill at a stag dinner which brought together 10 of the Second World War American generals and admirals who had served with the statesman.

Adenauer, Herter To Meet in Bonn

BONN, West Germany (AP) — U.S. State Secretary Christian A. Herter will meet Chancellor Konrad Adenauer here Saturday to discuss the international situation before going on to the Geneva foreign ministers' meeting which opens next Monday.

Government sources said Tuesday night that Herter will break his journey to Geneva in Bonn for several hours to review with Adenauer the Western stand on the crucial issues to be discussed by the East-West foreign ministers.

It will be the first meeting between Adenauer and Herter since the latter succeeded John Foster Dulles as secretary of state.

Fire on Hospital Roof

MONTREAL (CP)—A stubborn fire on the roof of a wing at Sacre Coeur Hospital Tuesday night forced the evacuation of 392 patients.

No one was injured and the actual fire damage was confined mainly to the roof of the five-storey wing, but water damage was immense in the lower floors as firemen from 15 stations dumped tons of water onto the blaze for 2½ hours.

A Policy of Chaos

THE CANADIAN GOVERNMENT is subsidizing the sale of Canadian coal to Japan, at the taxpayers' expense. The British Columbia Government is restricting the sale of another mineral, iron ore, to Japan by a disguised export tax. This tax was invalidated by the British Columbia Supreme Court but is now upheld as constitutional by the Appeal Court. Presumably the case will go to the Supreme Court of Canada for final decision, but whatever that decision may be in law, the ore tax obviously violates the intent of the Canadian constitution. It also violates Canada's national policy.

Under our constitution the conduct of foreign trade is placed in the hands of the national Government and could not be placed anywhere else. But the Bennett Government has interfered with foreign trade by taxing iron ore produced in designated areas, knowing that these areas export only to Japan.

The discrimination against our Japanese customers is clear and deliberate. It is, moreover, a direct contradiction of national policy since the national Government has no objection to the export of Canadian iron ore. On the contrary, Canada is exporting iron ore to the United States on a huge scale from the mines of Labrador.

The British Columbia tax reduces our trade policy in the large and growing Japanese market to complete chaos. On the one hand, we subsidize coal exports; on the other we suppress iron ore exports. And finally the Federal Government is preparing to raise cotton textile tariffs against Japan and talks of restricting "dumped" Japanese goods.

All this raises a simple question: Do we wish to do business with Japan or not? We can't have it both ways. If we are to sell in Japan we must let Japan buy the products it needs and we must let it earn in our market the Canadian dollars needed to purchase our goods.

Already Japan has become a major market for our exports and its purchases employ thousands of Canadian workers, many of them in British Columbia. Last year, for example, we sold goods worth $104,890,593 in the Japanese market and spent $70,215,951 there. Trade was balanced in our favor to the extent of $34,674,642.

Given reasonable encouragement, Japan will buy far more of our goods and employ far more Canadians in producing them. But our Governments, federal and provincial, seem determined to discourage this overseas trade though they are always deploring our dependence on the single American market.

It has taken years to build up our sales in Japan but they can be quickly reduced if we make contracts with Japanese importers and violate them by some indirect legal device. For Japan does not have to buy here and employ Canadians. It can buy from other countries that honor their contracts.

'While Under Suspension'

THE THEME IS GROWING MONOTONOUS.

The news story says that the driver raced away with police in hot pursuit. When they caught him, the motorist was driving while his licence was suspended. The epilogue is a court appearance with the offending and suspended driver drawing a fine.

Is this good enough?

It is generally believed that licence suspension is the most effective sanction which can be imposed on a driver who has broken the law. It ceases to be effective if the suspended car operator ignores the suspension.

The question arises: is a fine an adequate punishment for the offence? Experience indicates that it is not. Too many people who have been in trouble through their operation of a car are ready to take a chance and drive when they have no licence. While a number are caught, there must be more who escape detection in a city containing thousands of motorists.

It seems time for the authorities to take a hard look at the situation which is developing. Drivers do not lose their licences on the frivolous whims of a court. Before that sanction is applied they have committed a serious offence.

When they venture out on the road with their licences under suspension and draw the attention of the police, some try to escape. That attempt, with the high speed and reckless driving which usually accompany it, creates new and unnecessary hazards.

Under the circumstances, perhaps every offence carrying licence suspension as part of the penalty, might also include the conventional suspended sentence. Then, when the offender was caught breaking the law again, he or she would automatically go to jail—and would know the penalty before driving without a licence.

Unless some deterrent more effective than a fine is imposed, fleeing drivers will ultimately kill or maim someone, and the usefulness of licence suspension will decline.

Shrimp-Size Controversy

THE CURRENT CONTRETEMPS over Canadian truckers' use of United States highways to carry Chinese products from Vancouver to eastern Canadian centres is no more than a storm in a teacup.

Both Canada and the United States have appealed to clauses of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade to support their arguments, and a decision on these points must await the opinions of the international lawyers. But the facts of the matter appear to be relatively simple.

Canada permits trade with Red China in a number of non-strategic goods. The United States bans all trade with the Communist country. For some time Canadian imports of frozen shrimp, soy sauce and other foods from Red China have been hauled eastward from Vancouver by trucks which entered the U.S. for part of the journey.

It was drawn to the attention of the U.S. Government, reportedly by a rival Montreal firm which deals in frozen shrimp, that goods of Communist origin have been entering U.S. territory—even though only in transit under bond—and that this is not permissible. Washington agreed, and banned further transportation of such goods.

At the same time, the incident points up a serious lack on our part: that there is no convenient and usable highway connection between the western part of Canada and the eastern provinces. Surely it is a part of nationhood that we should be able to travel to all areas of our country without having to depend on the highways of a neighbor, however friendly.

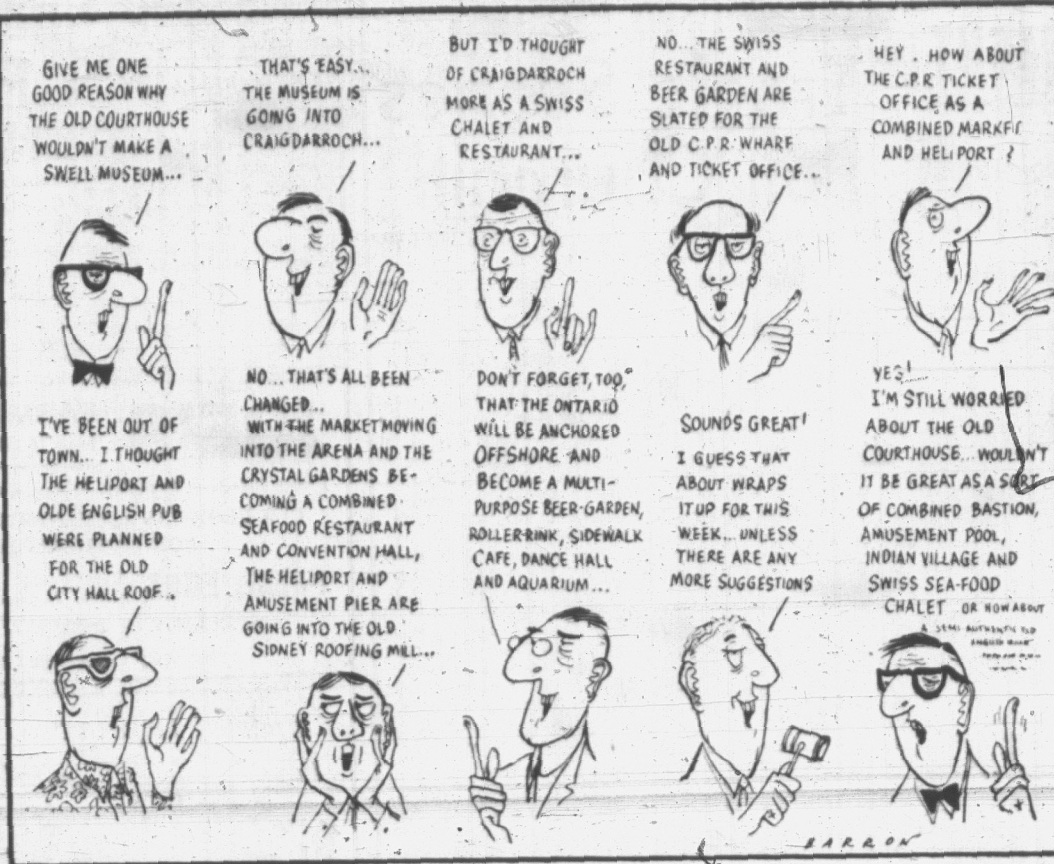

Both provincial governments and the federal administration might do well to look into this aspect of the case and find an early remedy. Many millions of dollars have been spent on a trans-Canada highway system, but apparently we still have no national Main Street.

Mechanical Conversationalists

NEWS THAT AN AMERICAN scientist has devised a language of 107 words to be spoken by robots to one another has been hailed as a technological triumph. But it calls for second thoughts.

It seems that the new development enables one machine to tell another, by means of a form of basic English, how to produce aircraft and missile parts. Tested out on production of an ashtray, the machines and the messages worked perfectly. Thoughts are already being projected ahead to the day when machines may be able to instruct machines how to make other machines.

At that point, however, man will have to beware. Will his robots talk about him behind his back? Will they plot his downfall in the dead of night? Will they some day, when he pushes the button, reply with a loud "Nuts to you" and loose an industrial revolution of a different kind?

THE URGE TO GO AND DO

Plumbing Minds Along With the Depths

By B. A. TOBIN

THE United States Army has announced that within sixty days it will launch an ape into space. The idea is to see what effects space travel—the speeds, pressures, temperatures, radiation and confinement—have on a physical mechanism very close to man's. Such information will be radioed back to earth. And the hope is, of course, that the missile and its simian passenger can be brought down again in good enough condition to provide still further information.

All this promises to be a little rough on the ape; almost as rough as being mangled by a tiger, throttled by a python or crushed by an elephant back in its native jungle.

One wishes that the ape could have been given a chance to volunteer for the job. That would have seemed a little more cooperative. As it is, the animal will be strapped into the nose cone and sent out on its historic journey with no knowledge of what is going on, no interest in its achievement, and no thought of the fame it is winning.

In all probability it will be looking back on its last meal and forward to its next—much the same frame of mind in which the vast majority of humanity goes to work each day.

Fellow Travelers

Of all the millions of persons who will read of the ape's flight, seven men will have a particular interest. They are the seven carefully selected astronauts from whom will come the first man in space (if some other country doesn't beat the U.S. to it).

Some time in 1961, one of them, the winner in the long ordeal of training and selection, will be strapped into a missile, just as the ape will be, and shot aloft. In what will probably be the first manned space vehicle he will swoop around the globe 125 miles out at 18,000 miles an hour.

The ape won't know why he is flying high, but the man will. Or will he?

As they are lashing him safely into his aerial test-tube will he have a clear idea of why he is going aloft? Will he be able to say, just before they bolt the door shut: "The reasons why I am going through with this are as follows—First . . ."

It is doubtful that he will be able to list them logically. It isn't likely that any one reason, or any six, could account for the phenomenon. Most likely his attitude will be a blend of patriotism, ambition, curiosity, adventure, duty, gratitude and gambling instinct.

There will be pride, too. He will know that he has survived as gruelling a test of physical and mental fitness as could be devised, and led other first-class men.

The Pioneer

Perhaps the incentive of knowing that he is blazing a path in history will be uppermost—for this will be a path that no man has travelled before. It will be much more than merely finding a new route along the surface of the earth, thrilling as some of those discoveries have been. This will be a leap into space, leaving the globe behind and whirling into the cosmos, a free speck in infinity.

There will be other greater leaps to come of course; leaps to other planets and perhaps eventually beyond. But this will be the first, and for thousands of years to come man in his space ships will honor the one—no doubt completely unknown by that time—who led the endless march.

The New York Times has been speculating on "Why do they do it?" It wonders editorially why the seven young pioneers entered their names for the space sweepstakes, why adventurers climb mountains, why explorers set off for the poles, why inquisitive scientists penetrate into jungles, ocean depths and deserts?

Seeking an answer, the Times went to a book by Wilfrid Noyce, a British scholar and poet and amateur mountain climber who was a member of the Hillary expedition to Mount Everest.

Well, it seems that one of the driving forces that sends men to peaks and depths and far places is a desire to escape from routine, humdrum existence. The factory, office or classroom suddenly seems intolerable and the victim has to get away.

Have to Go

Some adventurers, it is suggested, suffer from a hair-shirt compulsion. They feel that they have to get out and suffer a little and test themselves against the forces they encounter. Can they go a week without food, three days without water, crawl ten miles with a broken leg, kill a grizzly single-handed? The only way to find out is to go where such accomplishments may suddenly become necessary.

As one explorer said: "Polar exploration is at once the cleanest and most isolated way of having a bad time as has been devised."

And the isolation is a factor, too. Many adventurers have reported on their satisfaction at being clear of the human ruck for extended periods.

Danger is another incentive. "A certain amount of danger is essential to the quality of life," Lindbergh said. The thrill of winning against odds is still a basic ingredient of the human being. The race wouldn't have got this far without it, and it may be needed for a long time to come.

The ape will not know any of these satisfactions. Just bumps and noise and pressure and illness and probably a terrible fear. In the twentieth century, in many ways, being an ape must be even worse than being a human.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

No Bobby Hats

The idea of the return of bobby hats is ridiculous.

The many fine American people and other visitors from across Canada and other parts of the world don't come to see us acting. They admire us for what we are. Our police force is paid by taxpayers, and a very efficient job it does 365 days a year. If the policemen are needed in the darkest night they are always on call in any emergency. They don't need bobby hats.

My grandfather was a member of the Glasgow police for 35 years, and in dealing with people in Glasgow was not admired for the bobby hat, only for being the good policeman he was.

Pensions Issues

Previous to the last federal election, I had letters in the press dealing with questions re the old-age pensions.

I requested OAPs to ask all candidates whether they would support (1) An examination of the Pension Act, in relation to the cost of living; (2) Support legislation to pay the pension outside of Canada.

The prime minister, in his policy speech in Toronto, April 25, 1957, stated that the pension question would be approached in relation to the cost of living.

The arguments in favor of paying the pension outside of Canada are well known, and no good reason has been given against this.

There were two candidates in the last federal election who communicated with me, the CCF candidate, who phoned that he was entirely in support, and the Conservative member for Victoria, who wrote me on Aug. 22, 1957, and I quote: "I feel sure that the matter of paying OAP outside of Canada will receive sympathetic consideration—I will press for this most strongly, as being only just and equitable."

These statements of the prime minister and the CCF candidate, who phoned that he was entirely in support, and the Conservative member for Victoria, who wrote me on Aug. 22, 1957, and I quote: "I feel sure that the matter of paying OAP outside of Canada will receive sympathetic consideration—I will press for this most strongly, as being only just and equitable."

CAN'T BUY GRATITUDE
If giving his strings attached to it, you can't expect warm spontaneous gratitude—the two things just don't go together.

ister and Mr. A. DeB. McPhillips would not only raise hopes that these matters will be dealt with this session but would appear to be a promise that they would be.

I am still getting inquiries from OAP friends, who are particularly interested in the second question, but about which I have no further information at present.

I do know that any future candidates supporting promises already given advocating suitable legislation in these matters would receive quite a lot of support from AOPs in any forthcoming election.

JOSEPH KNIGHT,

Undignified
Unless the Premier of this province in his reference to opponents in various political camps and in his boastfulness about Social Credit achievement was misquoted in a recent report, and although it is possible to understand the desperation which, in spite of the Premier's ever-widening grin of pretended optimism, must nowadays underlie his thinking about the future of his government and thus lead him to seize every opportunity to get in whatever he can, nevertheless, surely there is a limit to the lowering of dignity a person in such high and responsible office may permit himself.

One may perhaps be lacking in humor in finding unfunny the reported reference to the Liberal party and a telephone booth, but surely even the most thinking adherent to the Social cause must have squirmed with discomfort and embarrassment over other childish references the Premier was reported to have made, which, however, indicative as they obviously are of a state of mind, must at least afford aid and comfort to the enemy.

LONDON LETTER

Fall Election

TWO items of business in the House of Commons last week—debates on the European situation and on the second reading of the Finance Bill—had a bearing on the prime minister's decision to postpone the general election, which he has the power to order at any moment now, until the autumn at the earliest. (In certain circumstances the Sovereign may demur from authorizing the dissolution of Parliament at the request of the prime minister, but they do not obtain at present.)

In Europe East and West are about to start a period of negotiation which, Mr. Macmillan said the other day, would be complicated and perhaps protracted—into a series of summit meetings.

Mr. Macmillan regards himself as being favorably placed to assist the cause of the West in these negotiations: Mr. Herter, the new United States secretary of state, is an unknown quantity in international negotiation; the French government is new; the West German government is in process of change.

To the suggestion that Mr. Macmillan's position will be weakened if he goes into a series of summit meetings before an election, one answer is that he would have no position at all if he happened to be beaten in an early election. This certainly is a factor which Mr. Macmillan must have weighed in reaching his decision to postpone the election.

The Finance Bill provokes a quite different set of considerations of which the most important, for its bearing on the election decision, is that its provisions will take time to make their full effect on the public.

Budget Factor

It has already been noted that the budget, on which this Finance Bill is based, did not release a flood of enthusiasm for the Conservative government. This is another factor which must certainly have been weighed by Mr. Macmillan.

It seems that Mr. Macmillan took his decision against an early election during the weekend before last—not sooner than that. Without making any formal announcement of the decision, the government helped the politicians at Westminster to conclude from the form of the Finance Bill that an early election was ruled out.

The bill in fact is slightly shorter than the finance bills of recent years, but politicians were quickly convinced that the government intended the bill to take its normal course through Parliament, and that Parliament would still be sitting in June and July.

Mr. Macmillan made this even clearer when he addressed the annual luncheon of the Conservative members' 1922 committee on the day after the publication of the bill. His speech in Preston a week ago also emphasized the fact that the present Parliament still had a busy program.

No government admits publicly that it is swayed by tactical considerations to secure a party advantage, but party advantage there must be if one side or the other is to get a working majority at a general election.

Better Chance

Mr. Macmillan, who is a man of political courage, has decided, against the advice of some of his colleagues and the wishes of many among his party's rank and file, that the chances of a satisfactory Conservative victory may be better later on than they are now.

It is a decision of courage, since the outlook over the next few months is obscure on both the diplomatic and economic fronts. Who can be sure that the substantial benefit can emerge from the summit meeting? Indeed, Mr. Macmillan's own forecast of the possibility of a series of summits suggests that he believes any progress which may be made will be slow.

And if progress is made, who will get the credit? Some observers believe that the nature of the Western alliance makes it inescapable that the strongest partner, the United States, will have to be given the credit, whether earned or not, for any progress made.

If that be so, then the credit which Mr. Macmillan has so far won as the West's most agile scout on reconnaissance may be overshadowed by praise heaped upon President Eisenhower or Mr. Herter at a later stage.

This apart, there is a risk that the East-West negotiations may go too slowly to be represented as a triumph for anybody at any particular point.

Economic Front

On the economic front, the government—and some members of the Labor opposition—assume that the £366 millions of extra money released by the budget must have some effect in stimulating production and reducing unemployment towards the end of this year.

Moreover, the government expects that the free gift which it offered to the Lancashire cotton industry last week—£30 millions over five years—will produce a more competitive and prosperous industry, though smaller by one-third than the present capacity.

The process of concentrating and re-equipping the industry cannot produce quick results, and in the first year or so the effects may be more painful than exhilarating. The scrapping of mills and of workers is the price to be paid; and though the government's offer of financial aid may have had a good psychological effect on the mill owners, the attitude of the working people will be controlled by the generosity or otherwise of the compensation for loss of work which the owners must pay as a condition of receiving government aid.

But state aid for Lancashire may land the government in trouble. The president of the Board of Trade, Sir David Eccles, was questioned last week about the attitude which the government would adopt to other industries which might find themselves in difficulties. He replied that the government regarded cotton as unique.

By special arrangement with The Manchester Guardian.

That Friendly Approach

LONDON—It seems that it doesn't always pay to be polite.

It is barely a month ago since Postmaster General Ernest Marples, undoubtedly one of the most progressive bosses the post office ever had, instructed the country's telephone girls to be more friendly. Scrap the old, curt "number, please," the operators were told, say instead "good morning, sir, can I help you?" and carry on in the same vein.

But already telephone exchanges in some areas have had to abandon the friendly approach. A Norfolk exchange was one of the first to do it. There are thousands of GIs attached to American camps in that part of the country, and the friendly telephonists proved too much of a temptation to many of them.

"They began to treat us like call girls," complained the switchboard operators.

However, it is not only the U.S. servicemen who have caused this courtesy campaign to boomerang. Elsewhere, the phone girls are finding that they're getting the worst of both worlds. If men don't take advantage of their friendliness to pester them for dates, they are irritated by the chatter and tell the girls to cut the cackle and get on with it.

So the post office is expected to send an "as you were" signal to those exchanges still persevering with the friendly technique.

Dr. Samuel Leff, medical health officer for the London suburb of Willesden, has been getting some brickbats for describing that traditional English dish, tripe, as a very non-U type of food—almost as low on the social list as kippers.

In rebuttal it has been pointed out to him that there is a smart restaurant in Paris, called Les Halles where tripe is served in 34 different ways. Which just shows the ingenuity of the French. To my knowledge the English haven't yet progressed beyond tripe-n' onions.

Britain hasn't got a Las Vegas but it has its own form of gambling that I don't think operates in your part of the world.

Commuters on trains in and out of London have started a roulette craze. They use the small roulette wheels of the type you buy in toy shops. The most popular roulette trains are those bound for the city (London's financial district) and stockbrokers are wagering as much as $150 on a spin of the miniature wheel.

Legal? British Railways say that as long as no passengers complain of their comfort being disturbed there's nothing against it. A reason roulette is tending to replace gambling with cards is that it's much more convenient.

It has always tickled me in suburban trains here to watch the lengths commuters have to go to to get a surface to place bridge and poker on. No tables available, they stretch criss-crossed string across the space between them, hold it tight with their thighs and lay newspapers on it to form a table.

MEMBERSHIP of the North Vancouver Liberal Association Tuesday night approved their executive's action in giving former Social Credit MLA Mel Bryan an association card when he crossed the floor of the legislature at the last session. Some members had complained the executive had not acted constitutionally.

No SOS By Ship Fire Chief Claims

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fire Chief Hugh Bird of Vancouver says the stricken Norwegian freighter, Ferngulf did not send the SOS international distress call when hit by an explosion that tore apart her midsection.

"What went out was a call for aid, not an SOS," he told city council Tuesday night. Chief Bird was making a special report to council into the explosion, which struck the vessel last Friday.

The Ferngulf's captain, William Archer, has criticized a delay in response to his calls for assistance.

The city council study followed charges that its two fireboats were prevented by red tape and regulations from going to the aid of the ship.

Chief Bird said the actions of two vessels which passed the Ferngulf supported his contention that only a call for aid came from the freighter. He said he and his deputy, Elmer Sly, watched the Ferngulf through "binoculars and there was evidence of very little smoke, if any."

He said two freighters went by the Norwegian vessel as he watched the scene. "If there had been an SOS, would these freighters have ignored the Ferngulf?" he asked.

The report said there was little the city fireboat could have done unless 20 to 25 additional firemen could have been placed aboard her. Normal fireboat crew is six, including three firemen.

Norwegian consul Hans Knut Waage said he has completed a routine report on all aspects of the accident and

Godfrey's Cancer Contained

NEW YORK (UPI)—Arthur Godfrey's doctors say cancer has not spread in his body as far as they could tell, and that the removal of the malignant tumor from his lung area last week freed him from the disease.

The 55-year-old Godfrey's progress since the operation gave his physicians "complete satisfaction," to the point that the hospital concluded that only one medical bulletin a day was necessary from now on.

"His recovery since his operation last Thursday has been steady and without complications of any kind," a bulletin said.

NEW INDUSTRY BOOM COMING SAYS BENNETT

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbians can expect more announcements of "great industries" coming to the province this year Premier Bennett said here Monday.

He made the remark at a press conference in commenting on a proposal by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company to develop a $20,000,000 steel mill at Kimberley. "The province is out of the recession and many exciting things will happen this year," Mr. Bennett said.

RAF Planes Carrying U.S. Hydrogen Bombs

LONDON (Reuters)—The defence ministry early today confirmed newspaper reports that the British force of V-bombers is armed with hydrogen bombs loaned to Britain by the United States.

TRAFFIC LANES TO AID SHIPS INTO HARBOR

VANCOUVER (CP)—A traffic-control plan which would help to eliminate collisions among approaching vessels has been adopted for Vancouver's busy harbor.

Nine sea lanes have been created which deep-sea and tugboat operators have agreed to use during the fishing season.

Fishermen will keep out of the lanes—similar to those used to guide traffic on highways—while other vessels are using them.

The safety feature is expected to eliminate the losses suffered by fishermen whose nets are slashed by the propellers of large ships.

'Ghost Trains' Coming?

OTTAWA (CP)—The day of trains running without human crews may not be far distant, CNR president Donald Gordon suggested Tuesday.

However, he told the Commons railway committee that the publicly-owned railway has no immediate plans to reduce further the number of persons in its train crews.

"Mind you," he added,

"eventually with automatic running without crews, at least controls we might have trains on some specialized services."

Ringling in the Ears

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Many times a week people ask me what they can do to cure ringing in their ears, and I am sorry to say that usually there seems to be no good treatment. The best thing is to go to a good ear specialist to see if he can find any sign of disease in the ear, and especially any disease which he could help by treatment. In many cases the ear man finds disease that he cannot cure; in other cases, usually of old people, he cannot find anything wrong in the ears, and then the chances are that the person has suffered a little injury in his brain—what I call a "little stroke"—due to the plugging up of a little artery.

The doctor can be sure of this when he hears that the noises followed a bad dizzy spell, perhaps with some wooziness. Perhaps, after this, the patient was so changed mentally that he could no longer do much work at the shop or the office. Perhaps at home he became irritable and grouchy and hard to get along with, and perhaps quite a bit of his memory went. In such cases there is usually little that a doctor can do—he cannot remake the little bit of brain that was destroyed. Fortunately, in many cases the effects of the little stroke wear off in a few months.

Whenever I talk to people about the importance of a poor nervous inheritance in producing nervous troubles of various kinds, someone in the group is likely to say to me, angrily, "You mean that because my grandmother was insane, I have to be insane?" No, No; most certainly not; I didn't mean any such thing. I did not say that, and I don't intend to say that. I remember a number of fine men and women who, in spite of the fact that they were born with a terrible mental heredity on both sides of the family, still managed to live out their lives as sane and well-adjusted persons.

I have done much thinking about this problem since Christmas time when, among the scores of letters I got from old patients and friends, I received one from a woman who must now be in her middle sixties. I saw her first when she was a lovely girl about 18, disturbed mentally, and seriously considering suicide. She was then a shy, tense person who, I knew, would probably be too schizoid all her life ever to marry. Her father, although a fine, well-educated man who had done much for his city, was so poorly adjusted that he had taken his own life.

Through the years I have kept in touch with my old patient and today I am proud of what she has done. Bravely, she has fought off her inherited tendency to mental disease, and has kept doing a magnificent job of running a good-sized and important business. She has never married. A few years ago, when I had a chat with her, I found her a fine, sensible woman. I imagine her life has not always been easy or happy. I feel sure it has been a long, hard fight in which she has hung onto her sanity.

Many may ask me, "But how does one hang onto his sanity?" And my answer is, "By living sanely." That is a good way of doing it. A man who comes of insane stock should not be living erratically with a bunch of impractical persons, drinking a lot; staying up till 2 or 3 in the morning, and sleeping till noon the next day. The man would do much better to go to bed at 10 and get up at 7. He would do well to have a job and work at it every day. He should try hard to be social, and to keep some interest in other people. It is not sane to be self-centered. A man should try to hang onto a number of friendships. He should try to keep feeling fit all the time. If he gets very tired, he should take a rest. He should fight worry; he should try to make decisions quickly; and he should try to work without getting very tense over it.

2 Small Boys Strangled 'Because They Were Bad'

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A mother and her unemployed boy friend told police Tuesday how they planned and carried out the murder of her two young sons.

The couple, who had been in San Diego only two weeks, were quoted as saying they killed the boys last Saturday "because they were bad" and left their bodies in the mountains east of here.

Kenneth Archie Merriam, 36, an unemployed painter, told officers and reporters he strangled the boys at the suggestion of their mother, Mrs. Wanda Brogdon, 33.

"She talked me into it," Merriam said. "It's a shame."

District Attorney Don Keller said Merriam and Mrs. Brogdon will be arraigned on two counts of murder.

SISTER UNHARMED

They are accused of taking the boys—along with a 19-month-old sister, Cynthia, who was not harmed—into the Laguna Mountains about 50 miles east of here where Merriam confessed he took first the older boy and then the younger boy from the car and strangled them.

The couple, after a round of bars early Tuesday, returned to the murder scene, put the bodies in the back of their car, and drove to the home of Merriam's sister, Mrs. Margaret Schmitter.

When Mrs. Schmitter learned what had happened she telephoned the sheriff's office.

Now Many Wear FALSE TEETH With More Comfort

FASTESTEETH, a pleasant alkaline (non-acid) powder, holds false teeth more firmly. To eat and talk in more comfort, just sprinkle a little FASTESTEETH on your plates. No gummy, gooey, sticky taste or feeling. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTESTEETH at any drug counter.

FORMER secretary-treasurer and business administrator of the Regina Public School Board, Zachary Macaulay Hamilton recently was appointed managing-secretary of the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans, Unit 12, in Victoria.

Mr. Hamilton also served as commander of the Regina 109 Manning Depot (reserve) before coming to the city. He is a former Victorian, educated at Lampson Street public school and University School before his family moved to Saskatchewan.

Free Help On Mental Problems

Mental problems? From 1.30 to 3.30 p.m., next Monday through Friday, persons who have questions concerning their mental behavior may visit Suite 1, 738 Fort, headquarters of the Victoria Branch, Canadian Mental Health Association.

There, volunteers, mostly nurses, will assist them. If there is a real problem, they will be referred to medical men.

DOOR OPEN

"The door is open for anyone who wants to come in," said a CMHA spokesman.

"We are here to help, but not for treatment."

"Steps to Mental Health" will be subject of an address by Dr. Brock Chisholm, open to the public, at 8 p.m., May 13, in the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, auditorium.

COMET JETS GO UNSOLD; U.S. WON'T TAKE THEM

LONDON (Reuters)—The de Havilland Aviation Co. said Tuesday it does not have enough orders to make a profit from the Comet IV jet airliner and it apparently has no chance of selling in the United States market.

Managing director W. E. Nixon, in his annual statement to stockholders, said the company made concentrated efforts to sell the Comet IV liner. But "we have as yet been unable to achieve the volume of orders to make the project as a whole a remunerative one."

De Havilland has not been able to sell any Comets to airlines in the United States and it did not appear likely "that a non-American company can achieve any substantial success in selling to operators in the U.S."

Batista Smuggles Money Out

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Daily News said Tuesday night it had learned that millions in American dollars and Cuban pesos have been secretly filtered through New York to Swiss banks by ousted Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista and his henchmen.

American and Swiss-owned airlines have been transporting the money for more than two months, the News said.

Since Easter, three shipments of $500,000 each were transferred at Idlewild International Airport here from planes which had arrived from Miami, Orlando and other Florida cities.

One money-shipment, moved more than a week ago, was opened by U.S. customs inspectors, the News said. Wrapped in canvas bags was $500,000.

Royal Jubilee Hospital campaign fund stood at $388,700 Tuesday, or about 95 per cent of quota. Directors were told at a luncheon Tuesday.

"We're not there yet, but the goal is in sight," campaign chairman Courtney Haddock told campaign officials.

Still to be heard from are banks, the oil industry, and HMC Dockyard. Donations from these sources are expected to bring the $410,000 objective close.

A mopping-up deadline has been set for May 12, next Tuesday. Canvassers are urged to have all their cards in by that date.

Committee member Len

Hobbs reported that a book is in preparation in which the names of every donor will be listed, for permanent display at the hospital.

"The entire campaign has been a fine thing for the morale of the medical profession," Dr. J. W. Anderson told the meeting. "It has shown doctors and medical staff just how much support they enjoy in the community."

Maj.-Gen. C. R. Stein, vice-chairman of the drive, paid special tribute to the contributions of labor.

"Labor has supported this campaign wonderfully well," General Stein commented. "They deserve our thanks."

Hospital administrator George Masters told the meeting that "one final push will do the job. We can then look forward to turning the first sod."

Funeral
Thursday

Funeral services for William Charles Winkel, 78, of 150 Douglas Street, will be held Thursday at 3 p.m. in Sands Memorial Chapel.

He died Monday in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Born in England, Mr. Winkel came to Victoria at the age of seven in 1888 and received his early education here.

After two years in the Klondike, he enlisted in Lord Strathcona's Horse in 1900 and served in South Africa.

ENGINEERING

Following the Boer War he served, for a time, with the B.C. Provincial Police, then studied and took up engineering.

He was engaged in engineering work until the outbreak of the First World War when he enlisted in the First Canadian Pioneer, Canadian Engineers, and received his commission in the field.

He was, at one time, a member of the Conservative party's provincial executive committee, a member of the Masonic Order, and a Past Master of the Camosun Lodge No. 60, AF & AM, BCR.

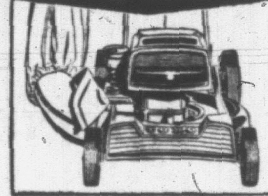

He is survived by the widow Irene, at home; a son Albert, at 381 Prince Robert Drive; two daughters, Mrs. A. W. J. Smith, 3500 Upper Terrace Road, and Mrs. E. D. Ironside of Ottawa; three grandchildren; a brother and four sisters.

NEW LABOR HALL STARTS THIS YEAR ON QUADRA

Construction of a new labor hall on Quadra, north of Hillside, is expected to begin before the end of this year. City council Monday sold four lots to Victoria Labor Council for $10,000.

E. T. Staley, president of Victoria Building Co-operative Union—which operates the V.L.C. headquarters—said the new site was chosen because of its central location. The present labor hall, on Pandora, will be sold.

The expanding labor council, representing some 13,500 workers here, and the growing number of union offices will move into the new building, containing 20 offices and four halls, sometime next year.

Victoria Man Represents Credit Unions at Boston

Representing more than 180,000 B.C. credit union members at meetings of the international body in Boston, Mass., is Robert F. Williams, 1012 Finlayson.

The meetings, which started Monday and end Sunday, are attended by representatives of more than 25,000 credit unions and 13,000,000 members throughout the world.

The annual meeting coincides with the 50th anniversary of the movement which was started in 1909 by Alphonse Desjardins of Quebec.

Mr. Williams is president of the Victoria Telephone Employees Credit Union, treasurer of the Greater Victoria Union, second vice-president of the B.C. union, and has been a director of the international body since 1952.

First Governor Of Ghana Due Here on Visit

First Governor-General of Ghana, Sir Charles Arden-Clarke, will visit Victoria May 14 for a brief stay.

He will be accompanied by Lady Arden-Clarke.

Sir Charles is now United Kingdom representative on the United Nations' Good Offices Committee on Southwest Africa.

He was Governor of the Gold Coast before that country achieved its independence and became its first Governor-General. He has since retired from the post.

Victoria Daily Times Silhouette Contest

No. 51

Silhouette Contest Rules

1. The Silhouette Contest is simple and easy to win. It consists of 60 silhouette drawings of widely known persons and 120 pictures. All you have to do is identify the silhouettes, not by name but by pairing them with pictures of the people you think are portrayed in the silhouettes. Each person shown in silhouette will be shown by picture but not necessarily on the same day. In addition there will be 60 pictures of other persons who will not be shown in silhouette drawings. Thus you will have 120 pictures from which to make your 60 selections to go with the 60 silhouettes. Keep the 60 left over pictures. They will be needed for the final Silhouette Scramble.
2. The contest starts on Saturday, March 7, 1959. Each day for 60 days one silhouette and two pictures will be printed. After you have paired a silhouette with a picture, paste or in some way fasten the matching pair on a single sheet of paper. All 60 sheets are to be fastened together in order and each sheet should bear your name.
3. The Times will award $750 in cash prizes to the winners. There are no entry fees. The prizes are:
  - 1. $500
  - 2. $100
  - 3. $50
 and four prizes of $25 each.
4. The contest is open to all residents of Vancouver Island with the exception of employees of the Times and Victoria Press Ltd. and members of their families. Not more than one prize will be awarded to any one immediate family.
5. The final silhouette and pictures will appear on Saturday, May 16, and with this set will appear a master score sheet on which you must enter the numbers of your silhouette-picture combinations. Do not send in your entries until all silhouettes and pictures have been published.
6. The contestant getting the greatest number of the 60 regular silhouettes correctly solved is automatically the winner of the first prize. Second highest score gets second prize, and so on.
7. A Silhouette Scramble will be published with Silhouette No. 60. This will consist of a number of silhouettes which are to be identified from the 60 pictures left over from the regular contest. This Silhouette Scramble will be used by the judges ONLY in case of ties. If ties exist in the regular contest, then these contestants making the best scores in the Silhouette Scramble will be declared winners.
8. Address entries to Silhouette Contest, Victoria Daily Times, 5511 Douglas Street, Victoria. All entries must be postmarked not later than Monday, May 25. Entries must be sent with first class postage fully paid, since The Times cannot be responsible for entries delayed because of improper address or insufficient postage, or for any other reason not received at The Times in due time.
9. By entering the contest, the participant agrees to accept the decision of the judges as final.

HONORARY DEGREE will be bestowed on former B.C. lieutenant-governor Clarence Wallace at Queen's University convocation in Kingston, Ont., May 16. Mr. Wallace is president of Burrard Dry Dock Co. Ltd. in Vancouver.

College Grad. Returning As Professor

A graduate of Victoria College, Dr. Howard B. Barnett, will join the staff as an associate professor at the beginning of term this fall.

Before his appointment he taught music and music methods in the colleges of education at University of Alberta and in Edmonton.

He is a former student of Victoria High School, Victoria College and the Provincial Normal School.

Dr. Barnett has been awarded an A.R.C.T. Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Music from Toronto, and the degrees of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Southern California.

Son of Mrs. J. E. Barnett, 1771 McRae Avenue, and the late J. E. Barnett, he saw service during the Second World War with the RCNVR.

Winery Workers Given Pay Boost

Some 28 employees of Growers Wine Co. Ltd., 3948 Quadra, received an 8-cents-an-hour pay boost retroactive to Jan. 1, 1959, under a new agreement signed Monday.

Members of Winery and Allied Workers' Union, local 344, the workers will get another 8-cent hourly increase Jan. 1, 1960, under the two-year agreement.

The new terms will pay plant operators $1.73 to $2.07 this year, $1.81 to $2.15 next year.

Two 'Scenic Coaches' Bought by Bus Firm

Two new "scenic coaches," valued at over $5,000, were added Monday to the Vancouver Island Coach Lines' fleet at Victoria.

Brought out from the General Motors plant at Windsor, the two luxury highway liners will be used in the company's Crimson Carpet service which, starting May 15 when existing schedules are pruned, will carry passengers to downtown Vancouver from Victoria in four hours.

VICL manager Conway Parrott explained the winning points of the new vehicles, which he maintains are not buses but scenic coaches.

"A bus," he says, "is something which wanders around and you travel in it because you don't have a car, or you are eccentric. It jiggles and stops every block or so. In hot weather it's too warm; in cool weather it's too chilly."

AIR-CONDITIONED

The new 41-seat coaches are air-conditioned and ride on cushions of compressed air through beautiful seashore routes. You rest on soft cushioned seats, colored in green and gold, with washable head rests, reclining backs and individual reading lamps. A crimson carpet runs the length of the coach.

Special service en route include any one of four daily newspapers of Vancouver and Victoria. Some new coaches contain rest rooms, but the routes locally are so short they are not necessary and never likely will be installed, said Mr. Parrott.

CRUISE AT 50

The new coaches are able to cruise nicely at 50 miles per hour, never losing way on hills. Top speed, which also can be maintained on grades, is 58.

The Island fleet now consists of 72 coaches. Last year the company chalked up mileage of 2,500,000 miles and carried 4,000,000 passengers. Of these, 43,000 were travelling to and from Vancouver and Victoria.

You Can Help Solarium Youngsters Get Down to Beach

All youngsters enjoy an outing at a beach, but not all are able to wriggle toes and fingers in salty sand on sunny summer days.

Usually the children deprived of occasional seashore recreation are those who live away from the water. For a group of youngsters who live only a few yards from Finerty Cove at Gordon Head there is a different reason.

They are patients at the Queen Alexandra Solarium

who are forced to travel either in wheelchairs or on crutches. Because a steep bank leads to the beach in front of the crippled children's hospital, they can only look longingly at the sand below.

But you can help the Solarium kids get down to the beach this summer.

The method is by purchasing a ticket for the annual Solarium Salmon Derby, the one-day fishing competition at Saanich Inlet which this year is scheduled on July 19.

Since the derby was started in 1946, fishermen in the Victoria area have adopted it as their favorite project and helped develop it into a famous angling event.

Co-sponsored by the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association and The Daily Times, the derby has now raised more than $64,000 for the Solarium.

Each year the derby committee sets a derby goal and three years ago, the anglers successfully set out to raise enough to pay for construction of the babies' playroom in the new Solarium building, opened last fall.

The following year they took as their target the cost of completely equipping the playroom. Last summer they aimed at proceeds that would pay for equipping the hospital's auditorium and recreation room and rolled over the top with a record total of $13,949.

Bruce Colgrave, heading the derby committee this year, has announced that a project has again been adopted—the building of a walk and ramp which will enable wheel-chair patients to spend some time on the beach.

Construction of the ramp is expected to start within two weeks and may be completed shortly after derby day. Bids for construction of a cement walk from the Solarium to the top of the bank and a cement ramp down to the beach are due in this week. It is expected the project will cost almost $14,000.

Since plans call for a 5 per cent grade, the maximum slope for safe and easy movement of wheelchairs, the ramp will be a long one, stretching more than 300 feet along the bank.

Solarium administrator John S. Holdstock expects the ramp will play an important part in helping crippled youngsters toward a normal life.

"Water temperatures are too low to consider bathing," he said, "but just being able to play on the beach will help a lot of our patients. Helping them more than the exercise they may have on the sand is the knowledge that they are doing something just like other children. We believe the ramp will aid us considerably in our work."

Success of the Island's biggest one-day fishing event requires extensive planning and a lot of work by a lot of people. The planning stage is over and this week committee members are rolling up their sleeves and getting the 1959 ticket-selling campaign in high gear. For the next two months they will have little time for their favorite pastime of fishing.

The children at the Solarium are not the only winners in the annual fish-fest. Derby entrants will be competing for a host of prizes on July 19. And you don't have to fish to win the biggest prize of all, which some ticket-purchaser will be able to drive home on the evening of derby day.

As usual, it will take more than the efforts of the angling association to push the derby over the top. It will again require the support of the angling public.

Derby tickets, costing $1 each, are now on sale at sporting goods stores and from members of the derby committee. Get your tickets soon and don't forget to make early boat reservations for July 19 at Saanich Inlet.

This one could be the best salmon shindig of them all.

FOR 1963

Winnipeg In Line For Games?

WINNIPEG (CP)—If Canada is given the 1963 Pan-American Games, Winnipeg will be the site, the Winnipeg games committee said Tuesday night.

Allen McGavin, president of the Canadian games committee, told officials of the decision in a telephone call from Vancouver. Winnipeg and Montreal were the only Canadian cities to bid for the spectacle.

Canada's application for the games will be presented to the international committee at Chicago during staging of the 1959 games this summer.

Jim Daly, chairman of the Winnipeg games committee, said he had no information on what other countries would apply for the games.

"But I think we have a good chance," he said.

Golf Teams Meet At Uplands Club

The annual Uplands vs. Victoria Golf Clubs team match will be held Friday at Uplands with tee-off times between 5:30 and 6 p.m. Victoria teams are first named in the following draw:

G. Bigelow and J. Barry vs. F. Scraggs and K. Lawson.
D. Munro and C. Horwood vs. F. Ranson and C. Hoggie.
M. McKay and R. Crosse vs. D. McLean and V. Lee.
R. Bailey and T. L. McMaster vs. J. Reside and E. Ferguson.
R. Bates and D. Abbott vs. D. Jones and W. Loney.
T. Lowe and A. McCabe vs. R. Yeardon and R. Pettis.

Game Was Close For Half Inning

VANCOUVER (CP)—It was a tight game, going into the bottom of the first inning. Cedar Cottage took a 1-0 lead over Fraserview in their bantam girls' softball league game.

Then Fraserview scored 23 runs. They got 13 more in the second and 14 in the third. The game was called off then. Fraserview won 50-1.

TIREMEN, TOO!

MacNutt's Mark Up Second Straight Win

Tudor House threw three pitchers at MacNutt's Tuesday night in Senior Open Softball League play at Heywood Avenue Park, but still failed to stem the scoring tide.

MacNutt took the game, 10-3, while Farmers were edging D & D Tire, 4-3, behind the pitching of Don Ross and reliever Don Lyon in the night's other game at Central Park.

Bill Eminson started on the mound for Tudors to be followed by Martin Holmes and Andy McLeary, both in the fifth inning.

A pair of eighth-inning errors and a single beat Tiremen's Dennis Beaulac. After a shakey first four innings, Beaulac had appeared to settle down with his team tying the game, 3-3, in the top of the eighth.

Ken Cunningham hit the damaging single for Farmers in the eighth with Archie Sluggett moving to third and then home on a left-field miscue. Sluggett reached base on another error.

It was the second straight win for both MacNutt's and the Tiremen, moving them to the top of the 12-team league.

Listening to the tipsters for the past few days prompted Colwood professional Bill Court to reach into a delicatessen today and come up with an ever-so-polite "baloney."

He didn't say it in as many words, but the Colwood pro suggested that too many persons are writing off Wakeham too soon.

The 10th annual Times tournament, Vancouver Island's major match play competition, reaches its climax on Court's course Sunday. MacLeod and Wakeham tee off for 18-hole rounds at 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Finalists in the Hugh Francis (handicap) Trophy section, Art Blackmore and Jack Meadley of Gorge Vale, follow five minutes later.

UNDER-RATED Wakeham, bidding to become the first junior winner of The Daily Times Trophy, is an under-rated golfer, says Court.

"Bill's deceptive. You figure he's not doing very much until after he's 'gassed' you. Then you stop and think about it, and you realize it."

"It happened to me in the second round. He was even par when the match ended on the 17th, and that's good golf when you're playing the Gorge."

"Another thing about Wakeham," Court added, "is that he hasn't got a nerve in his body. That's half the battle in match play."

Court didn't mention another feature in Wakeham's game that will stand him in good stead on the long and narrow Colwood fairways. That is the former Canadian junior champion's ability to stay straight down the middle.

LIKE PRESSURE

In one respect, Wakeham and MacLeod are very much alike. Pressure and galleries don't seem to bother them. The good golfers who play with them will testify to that.

"The gallery makes you conscious of the fact that there's a golf game going on," reported MacLeod. "So you concentrate on that game."

The gallery will be out at Colwood Sunday, so will Wakeham and MacLeod.

Undoubtedly, there will be a game. . . . It should be a good one!

TROUBLES OVER?

Turley Brakes Yankees' Skid

(By UP International)

It was Bob Turley to New York Yankees' rescue in their hour of need—just as it was last October in the World Series.

Turley, who won two games and saved a third in the Yankees' great series comeback, played the "all-American boy" again Tuesday night when his brilliant relief pitching enabled the world champions to end their five-game losing streak with a 3-2, 10-inning victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

The triumph—a thriller in which Turley struck out the side in the last of the 10th after an opening, pop-fly double by Hector Lopez—doubt the Yankees back in the win column but was too much of a personal victory to indicate the champions actually have shaken their slump. Turley, who has scored the Yankees' only two victories since April 22, stopped a four-game skid April 29, but the New Yorkers promptly lost five more in a row.

Braves Had Long Struggle to Top

The American League's pitcher of the year in 1958, Turley, has only a 3-3 record this season but the Yankees have scored a total of four runs in his three defeats. His previous wins were by 3-2 and 5-2 scores.

The Yankees' struggle to end their astonishing slump overshadowed the longest game of the year so far—a 16-inning battle in which the Milwaukee Braves beat the Los Angeles Dodgers, 3-2, and went back into first place in the National League.

HAMILTON (CP)—Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Big Four Football Union have signed Ron Baker, 20-year-old Canadian end from North Bay.

Rainiers Fail to Slow Fast-Stepping Solons

By The Associated Press

Sacramento Solons retained top spot in the Pacific Coast baseball league standings Tuesday night, beating Seattle Rainiers 5-3.

The Solons now hold a three-game lead over San Diego Padres and Phoenix Giants, who are tied for second.

The Padres were beaten 5-0 by Spokane Indians, Tuesday night, while Phoenix's scheduled game with the Beavers at Portland was rained out. In the other league game Vancouver Mounties whipped Salt Lake City Bees 8-5.

Joe Taylor hit a home run and a single in leading an 11-hit Vancouver attack on Salt Lake City pitching. His hits drove in three runs. Marv Breeding also had three RBIs for Vancouver, with a single, a sacrifice fly and an infield out.

Connie Johnson, who was 6-9 with Baltimore last year, picked up the victory, evening his record at 1-1. Bob Anderson was the loser.

The Solons won on the strength of a three-run sixth inning. The Rainiers out-hit the Solons 12-11 but the safeties were scattered.

Chris Nicolosi stopped the Padres on five hits. He struck out seven batters and walked none as his mates pounded San Diego pitching for nine hits.

Best Signals From Rocks Flashed Late

Vancouver 10, Shamrocks 5

It wasn't the kind of game that sends all good coaches home in a happy frame of mind, but at least one small portion of Victoria Shamrocks' losing cause in Vancouver Tuesday night pleased coach Norm Baker.

That was the Rocks' display of spirit and willingness to hit in the final quarter.

Over the route, however, Victoria's performance could only be termed mediocre as they dropped their second straight Inter-City Lacrosse League encounter, 10-5, to Vancouver Carlings.

Until that final quarter, Shamrocks lacked drive and defensive alertness. It cost them dearly as they fell behind, 3-2, 7-3 and 10-4, after the quarters. Rocks came out "hitting" in the final quarter and only then, when they out-scored Carlings, 1-0, did they impress a slim turnout of about 650 customers.

LINES CHANGED

"At least they showed me they can go if they want to," said Baker. "We weren't alert defensively, and the injury to Jim McNulty certainly didn't help. I had to change the lines and the boys weren't too loose."

McNulty, injured in the tragic auto mishap that claimed the life of Peeewe Bradshaw, is expected to return to the Victoria lineup in about two weeks' time.

It is doubtful if he will be able to play in Victoria's next game, scheduled for Memorial Arena next Wednesday. McNulty is to be discharged from hospital by the weekend.

GIMPLE SHINES

Gordy Gimple was the big gun for the winners with three tallies, while singles were scored by Bobbie Marsh, Lou Nickle, Pete Black, Norm Usselman, Bill Chisholm and Lee.

Victoria scores, all with single goals, were Bert Bertoia, Art Green Jr., Jim McNeill, Tom Collett and Jack Wilson. Victoria goalie Gordie Johnston was outstanding, blocking 30 of 40 Carling shots, while rival Dave Unwin handled 27 shots safely.

Bruins Square Tour Tally With Rangers

PARIS (CP)—Boston Bruins downed New York Rangers 6-4 Tuesday night to square the count in their 22-game European exhibition hockey tour at three games apiece.

Only about 700 persons—the same attendance that saw the Rangers whip the Bruins 6-2 Monday—turned out to see the Bruins win at the French Skating Federation's rink in suburban Boulogne.

Johnny Bucyk led the Boston attack with three goals. Ernoe Horvath, Don McKenney and Vic Stasiuk got the club's other tallies.

Eric Nesterenko, Jim Bartlett, Bob Hull and Eddie Shack, scored for New York.

Murdock Makes It Unanimous

There appears little doubt left that batters are in for a rough season in Victoria's minor baseball circles.

It became unanimous in almost every city league, following a rash of pitching gems at the weekend and another dazzler Tuesday night, that moundmen are in the driver's seat.

The latest mound masterpiece was registered Tuesday at Royal Athletic Park in the Capital City Colt League where Northwesters tagged a 4-0 defeat on VABC No. 2 behind the no-hit pitching of Dave Murdock.

Murdock allowed three walks and struck out 17 batsmen.

SHORT-HANDED BEAVERS FACE TIDE SIDE TODAY

Eastern Canada Beavers, unsuccessful bidders against B.C. Reps Saturday for the Canadian rugby championship, will be looking for their first win of a western tour tonight when they meet Victoria's Crimson Tide at Macdonald Park, starting at 6 p.m.

At least six Beaver players will be watching from the sidelines as a result of injuries and attacks of the flu.

Ian Nicholl, who was at first believed to have strained a calf muscle, actually has a broken leg, eastern team manager Jeff Denton said Tuesday. Other Beavers sidelined with injuries are Norm Donaldson and David Skidmore, who came out of Saturday's game with a broken collarbone.

Three-Day Test Highlights Tour

The lineup of the English cricket team which will tour five Canadian provinces this summer for a series of cricket matches against Canadian teams was announced Tuesday in London.

The team, representing the Marylebone Cricket Club, ruling body for the game throughout the world, will arrive in Montreal late in July. It will play 22 games, one of them a three-day test match.

The MCC team, third in the history of Canadian cricket to tour the country from Quebec to British Columbia, will play two matches in Quebec, nine in Ontario, one in Manitoba, four in Alberta and six in British Columbia.

The test match is set for September 5 to 7, at Toronto. Marylebone will play Victoria's select Sunday, August 16, at Beacon Hill Park.

Dennis Silk, 27-year-old Somerset batsman and 1955 captain of Cambridge University, will lead the all-amateur touring side.

Maybe Pat's Trouble Is That He's Good!

MONTREAL (CP)—Eddie Supple, father of Canadian bantam-weight boxing champion Pat Supple, said Tuesday his son has retired from the ring because of difficulty in raising fights.

Pat, 21, has been inactive since last January when he returned from Europe, where he split four decisions against top-calibre British fighters.

His father said Pat has taken a job as a salesman with a Montreal department store and "is thoroughly fed up with the fight game."

Playing their home course, the Uplands Golf Club sister-combination of Dorothy Poyntz and Joan Lawson came through Tuesday to win the Victoria City Ladies Handicap foursome title, defeating Mrs. O. Carroll and Mrs. H. Wakelin on the 18th hole.

The golfing sisters, daughters of well-known Victoria sportsman Doug Fletcher, never faltered since the opening day of the tourney when they captured medalist honors.

Mrs. Poyntz capped their steady march, sinking a short putt to defeat the Gorge Vale club duo.

Mrs. Lawson is defending Uplands club and city champion, but it was the first major win for Mrs. Poyntz since her return to the fairways after a 21-year layoff.

Mrs. W. H. Yardley and Mrs. L. Kerr combined to win the championship consolation, 2 and 1, from Mrs. M. Grant and Mrs. G. Warren.

Championship consolation—Mrs. W. H. Yardley and Mrs. L. Kerr defeated Mrs. M. Grant and Mrs. G. I. Warren, 2 and 1.

First night consolation—Mrs. F. S. Green and Mrs. C. D. Donham defeated Mrs. L. A. Bradley and Mrs. F. G. Skidings on the 18th.

Second night—Mrs. L. E. Pope and Mrs. J. F. Felt defeated Mrs. E. G. Humber and Mrs. G. Quincey defeated Mrs. N. M. Hamford and Mrs. R. McDonald, 4 and 3.

Third night—Mrs. C. F. Ricketts and Mrs. E. Saunders defeated Mrs. F. Jackson and Mrs. B. Thirwell, 2 up.

Main-Eventers Hit by Fines

BOSTON (AP)—American League president Joe Cronin has fined the "main-eventers" in Sunday's brawl involving players of Cleveland Indians and Washington Senators.

Cleveland manager Joe Gordon was fined $100. Indian outfielder Jim Piersall and Washington pitcher Pedro Ramos were tagged $50 each.

Cronin also approved an automatic fine of $50 levied on Senator's pitcher John Romano by umpire-in-chief Ed Hurley, for intentionally throwing at batter Vic Power.

HOW YOUR LIVER BILE BREAKS DOWN FAT

Laboratory tests have now proved that liver bile emulsifies fat... actually breaks it down. It is an established medical fact that when liver bile is added to fatty solids, the fat is broken down and forms a smooth, easy-flowing mix.

In your body, precious liver bile helps break down fat the same way. Many foods reach the digestive tract as undigested fatty solids. Your golden liver bile helps break down this fat... emulsifies it... for easier and more complete digestion.

Cartier's Little Liver Pills exclusive formula of natural, vegetable ingredients relieves irregularity gently and effectively. At the same time, it actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat in your body.

So when you feel sluggish, headachy, nervous and need a laxative, get Cartier's Little Liver Pills. Remember, Cartier's not only relieves irregularity, but actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat. Only 6¢.

Escapee Rate Cut Steadily

NANAIMO — Number of escapees from Brannan Lake Boys' Industrial School is being reduced steadily, according to school authorities.

April reports indicated only four boys "walked out" of the school confines against seven the previous month and 12 in February.

Ald. William McGregor last month protested about the number of escapees, and asked for an investigation.

The staff said security had been tightened at the school.

NANAIMO — Hopes for a new library here faded this week following the announcement by Nanaimo Kiwanis Club president Arthur Lionel that his club had dropped the scheme as a public service project.

He blamed the rising cost of building and lack of interest on the part of the public.

***

NANAIMO (CP) — The Loyal Order of Moose here has posted $100 for motorists who can halt their cars within 50 feet from 35 miles an hour.

The offer is made in connection with a child-safety crusade.

NANAIMO (CP) — An untrained puppy led William Lychak to court here.

Lychak pleaded guilty to a charge of assaulting his wife after Mrs. Lychak told the court she slapped the dog on the nose and in turn was struck by her husband.

Lychak was remanded to May 15 for sentence.

***

DUNCAN — Horst Nowrath and Ken McKinnon will stand May 13 for election to the presidency of the Duncan Chamber of Commerce.

Voting will be at the Commercial Hotel at 6 p.m.

NANAIMO (CP) — Fifteen hundred Shriners and their wives are expected here May 15 and 16 for the Vancouver Island spring ceremonial of Gizeh Temple.

Highlight of the two-day convention will be a parade, May 16, through downtown Nanaimo.

Shrine members from all parts of British Columbia and Washington will take part, along with six or more Shrine bands.

***

TOFINO (CP) — More than 800 flying enthusiasts will take part in the fourth annual Tofino Crab Feed and Fly-In here June 21, sponsored by the Aero Club of B.C.

Fliers are expected to arrive here for the affair aboard 150 private and two chartered airliners.

Submerged Cable Laid to Kuper

DUNCAN — Three miles of underwater cable were laid Tuesday by the B.C. Power Commission from Salt Spring to Kuper Island.

Overhead lines will span the 100-foot gap between Kuper and Thetis Island, and service will start in mid-June, according to John Gardner, BCPC area manager here.

Belmont Bazaar Makes $800

LANGFORD — More than $800 was cleared at the recent annual Belmont Junior-Senior High School bazaar in the school auditorium and attended by 850 persons, it was announced today.

Money will be used to help with development of drama, music, sports and other school needs.

Ken Hincks, president of Belmont Parents' Council, opened the show, and D. Kerley conducted the school band.

W. Richter led the junior choir and massed choirs; R. J. Wetmore led students in an exhibition of tumbling, and Mrs. P. Dulmage directed a cabaret scene and floor show.

Games, sale of furniture, bingo, tea and operation of miscellaneous stalls were features of the bazaar. Mrs. William McDowell was co-ordinator.

Qualicum Tax Rate Held to '58 Level

QUALICUM BEACH — Village commission here, at a special meeting this week, set the tax rate for the year at 30 mills, unchanged from last year.

It is made up as follows: general purposes, 12.75 mills; schools, 17 mills; hospital improvement district, 25 mill. Increases this year were the hospital charge, and a boost of $9,362 in school costs.

A contract for construction of rest rooms on the beach front was let to Qualicum Construction Co. for $5,600.

The village plumbing bylaw was amended to disallow use of steel septic tanks in future installations.

'Seagulls, Cars, Gardens . . . It's a Passion With Me'

MONTÉ ROBERTS

I have NOT been asked to tell all I know about potatoes.

This is unfortunate, because I would dearly love to tell all I know about potatoes.

In the past, I have been asked to tell all I know about a great variety of subjects, and I have done the best I could.

But nobody, nowhere, nohow, has ever asked me to tell all I know about potatoes.

Possibly this is because everybody, everywhere, everywhere, knows more about potatoes than I do.

If so, it is a great pity, because I am a potato man from way back.

I am a push-over for a potato, whether he be boiled, mashed, fried, scalloped, au gratin (except I can't pronounce it) or baked.

Especially baked. Baked in his skin in the oven, to such a state that when a knife is gently applied to his protective covering, he sends off a whiff of aromatic steam.

And beneath his skin is revealed a snowy-white, piping hot, flaky-soft mass fairly bursting to titivate the appetite and send the taste-buds reeling home to mother.

Yes, I would dearly love to tell all I know about potatoes.

Possibly the reason I haven't been asked is, I haven't encountered the type of potato over which a man can honestly drool since I came back to this, my native land.

Thus for the past 10 years I have had no experience with the true potato.

What I have encountered here is the type of potato which, I suspect, caused the Irish Rebellion.

It would not even take the temper of an Irishman to rebel at the type of potato I have been exposed to during my tenure on Vancouver Island.

It is entirely possible a proper potato has been grown on Vancouver Island, or imported to Vancouver Island from some more fortunate area.

If so, this potato has not arrived at my dinner table.

All the potatoes I have encountered in recent years have been wet, soggy, and about as tasty as unsalted glue.

They have not been fit to mash, boil, or bake, let alone eat.

If you think I am bitter on the subject of potatoes, you are so right.

Just one—just one—just one DRY, flaky, fluffy potato before I die. That is all I ask.

Possibly it is just as well nobody, nowhere, nohow asked me to tell all I know about potatoes.

CHOIRBOYS TO CLIMB FOR SPECIAL SERVICE

Choirboys of Christ Church Cathedral will mark the Ascensiontide on Thursday with hymns from the tower overlooking the city.

This practice is traditional in Europe and is gaining in popularity here.

Service will begin at 8 a.m. as the boys start to climb the spiral stairs leading to the apse, and by 8.15 people on the streets below will be able to hear them singing in praise of the ascended Lord.

Traffic in nearby streets will be diverted so that people standing on the sidewalk may hear.

PETS KILLED IN FIRES

'Copter Drops In To Help Firemen

CITY DOCTOR IN 4TH YEAR OF DEEP COMA

Dr. Anne Steel today passed her third year in hospital—still unconscious as the result of a riding fall in the Okanagan May 6, 1956.

Condition of the 39-year-old woman, a Victoria physician, was reported at noon as "unchanged."

A hospital official said Dr. Steel is receiving "the very finest nursing care." She is attended day and night, yet never shows a flicker of consciousness.

Born in Scotland, Dr. Steel was a graduate of the University of Edinburgh. She took her medical degree in Vancouver before practising in Victoria.

A navy helicopter fluttered out of the blue to offer aid as firemen fought a $650 shed fire on rural Wilkinson Road, one of two fires that killed four pets in Saanich Tuesday.

Three rabbits perished when flames from the shed at 4408 Wilkinson spread to straw in nearby hutches, destroying stored hay, sawdust and garden tools in their path, at 10.15 a.m.

About $1,000 damage was caused to the home of Norman Hyde, 1670 Mortimer, where only a house cat was at home as fire, believed started by an electric sump drainage pump, spread through a wall to an upper bedroom at 2.45 p.m. The cat died.

PLAYING WITH MATCHES

At the first blaze, fire sprang to life when 4½-year-old David Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Smith, played in hay with matches, then ran to tell his mother what he had done.

Mrs. Smith called firemen, who arrived as flames licked at a corner of the adjoining house and heavy smoke billowed over the Smith home.

The helicopter, manoeuvring over the navy yard at Esquimalt, was attracted by the smoke and flew over to land in a field on the Smith property.

A fireman ran to offer help to firemen who were laying in a hose line, but aid was not needed.

Three rabbits survived the blaze, which did not destroy the hutches.

A neighbour saw smoke coming from the Hyde house and called firemen. They said the fire appeared to have started when the pump motor, on which some old clothes were piled, became overheated.

Damage was mainly from heat and smoke.

B.C. Line Won't Try For City Run

B.C. Air Lines today dropped out of competition for the franchise to serve the Vancouver-Victoria-Seattle route now operated by Trans-Canada Air Lines.

The firm said it had notified the Air Transport Board it was withdrawing its opposition to an application by Pacific Western Airlines to operate the route if TCA abandons it.

The decision came exactly four weeks after BCAL was sold by Paul Tak and F. Maurice McGregor to Northwest Industries Ltd. of Edmonton for an undisclosed amount.

Mr. Tak and Mr. McGregor purchased the airline in September, 1956, from William B. Sylvester of Victoria. He founded the operation in 1944.

Third carrier, in the battle to operate the tri-city run is Okanagan Helicopters Ltd. of Vancouver. It has advised the Air Transport Board it will apply to operate the run at a future date. Okanagan has notified the board it opposes any change in the present tri-angle service.

THE HEAT'S OFF SO POODLE TELLS ALL

'I Started Oak Bay's Anti-Dog War'

By KIKKI
(As Told to Tony Dickason)

Now it can be told.

I'm the dog that started the anti-dog war in Oak Bay.

My name is Kikki. I am four years old and a French poodle, though my name is Dutch origin and I was born in Kingston, Jamaica.

Reason I'm in print today is that a kind Oak Bay policeman told me my mistress won't be taken to court if I get off my leash. There have been no summonses for the past two weeks, he said, although 34 of my cohorts got their bosses into trouble since March 1 by just being dogs.

In other words, the heat is off us Oak Bay hounds.

And all I can say is, it's about time.

I've never bitten anyone in my life, and don't intend to. And I love children and cars. And I love gardens.

These interests have led to complaints.

Not only do I love to ride in cars, I also love chasing the silly things. It is a passion with me, like stamp collecting.

I've been hit by cars—broken ribs, yet—but being a gentleman of character this has not kept me down.

My mistress, a faithful friend, knows my character full well.

She says: "This is the dog that has caused most of the trouble in Oak Bay."

Trouble? Okay, so I like freedom. Every mature dog does. We even fight for it. Has anybody ever heard of a democracy for dogs? About time they did.

I live about three bounds from Willows Beach. Yet if the officials have their way, I can't even run down the beach and enjoy myself. Might kick sand, they say, in somebody's lunch.

What, I ask myself, is a beach lunch without sand?

I'M FAMOUS

Heck, I'm really famous. People have even written letters to the newspaper about me!

I'm a solid 30 pounds, fighting fit.

But I'm up against a problem: If I'm tied up I miss the kids, and chasing those seagulls on the beach. If I'm allowed to run loose, I still love those crazy cars, and people object.

Not being a down-deep philosopher, I'd still say we all have drawbacks.

Support Grows For Perrault

But Gibbs Still In Liberal Race

By PETE LOUDON, Times Political Reporter

At least a two-way race for leadership of the B.C. Liberal Party appeared to be shaping today.

Following a meeting in Vancouver Tuesday of district association presidents, it was reported there is a strong support for Ray Perrault, 33, executive-secretary and organizer of the party, as next leader.

The other possible candidate is Oak Bay MLA-P. A. "Archie" Gibbs, who has the backing of Victoria MLA and Liberal House leader, George Gregory.

Although there was a strong move earlier to draft Mr. Gregory into the position recently vacated by Arthur Laing, he definitely declined nomination.

But Mr. Gibbs, despite an indication earlier he would accept nomination, now says he will refrain from making a decision until talking with Mr. Laing.

Mr. Perrault has made no comment despite the reports that district leaders in many sections of the province are backing him.

HOPE FOR LAING

General reluctance is laid to the fact many Liberals, including those named, are still hopeful Mr. Laing will reconsider and will allow his name to stand. In that event, Mr. Perrault states, he definitely will not seek the post.

The presidents' meeting held in Vancouver Tuesday night was a private meeting and deliberations were not made public.

It was learned a great measure of pro-Laing sentiment was expressed. But some of his strongest supporters lean now toward Mr. Perrault because they believe Mr. Laing's health to be a major consideration.

MAY 15, 18

The question of leadership and election policy will be settled at the party's convention at University of British Columbia May 15 and 16.

A Mayor Tom Alsbury of Vancouver will welcome the delegates. About 500 are expected to attend.

Featured speaker of the convention will be national Liberal Federation president Major-General Bruce Matthews of Willowdale, Ont.—a well-known Toronto insurance executive.

He will address delegates at a convention dinner at Mount Pleasant Branch Canadian Legion, Saturday, May 16.

The convention will have for its guidance on policy decisions, the results of a province-wide questionnaire poll. Officials say there will be "less speeches and more work" as policy ideas are threshed.

A total of about 80 delegates are expected to attend from the Greater Victoria area, including Vancouver Island vice-president of the provincial executive, Arthur H. Cox. Bob Ellis, provincial president of the Young Liberals' Association will lead a delegation of six from his group.

Mr. Gregory and Mr. Gibbs are expected to deal with unrest among North Vancouver Liberals over the acceptance into the Liberal party of J. Mel Bryan, North Vancouver MLA.

Mr. Bryan joined the Liberals during the last session, raising the total elected membership to three. He was elected as a Social Credit member but became an independent in 1958 when he disagreed with government handling of the Sommers case.

'Big O' Purchased By Vancouver Firm

The former RCN cruiser Ontario—"most travelled ship in the Canadian Navy"—has new owners today.

But the destination of her final voyage has yet to be decided.

Successful bidders for the ship, offered for sale by War Assets Disposal Corp., is Cattermole-Tretheway Contractors Ltd., 837 West Hastings Street, Vancouver.

UNDER $500,000

Price has not been announced, but is believed to be under $500,000. The Ontario cost about $35,000,000 when she was completed by Harland and Wolff at Belfast in 1945.

E. A. Tretheway, a director of the company which now owns the ship, said it has not been decided where it will be scrapped.

A condition of sale was that it must be scrapped in Canada.

Registrations Next Week For Grade 1, Kindergarten

Registration of new pupils entering kindergarten or Grade 1 classes will be held all next week in the Greater Victoria schools.

District superintendent John Gough announced today that parents can enroll their children at the nearest elementary school between 3 and 4 p.m., Monday to Friday.

Children entering Grade 1 this fall must be six years old by December 31. Proof of age is required.

Children attending kindergarten at the present time do not have to be registered for Grade 1.

In accordance with a new policy, the eight kindergartens will accept children from all over the school district. Children must be five years old by December 31.

Preference will be given to the oldest children, regardless of residence.

Kindergartens this year will be operated at Doncaster, George Jay, Hampton, James Bay, Lamson Street, Margaret Jenkins, North Ward and Oaklands Schools. The Hampton class replaces the one at Marigold this year.

not have its own ship-breaking facilities.

Mr. Tretheway is president of Tretheway Industries Ltd., shingle manufacturers and loggers, and of Tretheway-Wells Timber.

R. J. Cattermole is president of Cattermole Timber Co. and Cattermole Logging Co.

The Ontario, an 8,800-ton light cruiser, is berthed at the Seward Defence jetty, Esquimalt, where she has lain since paying off in October, 1958.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. If a person receiving the old age pension leaves Canada for a four month holiday, does the pension cease while they are out of Canada? A.M.J.

A. Yes. Proper procedure is to contact the Old Age Security Division, Federal Bldg., Room 306. The division will give you a "border crossing letter" which will be stamped by customs on departure and return. This letter is the basis of pension suspension and re-start.

Q. Is it possible to get in touch with the "Blue Blood Social Register" or Leonard Knox, editor, of Toronto? Interested.

A. Write Leonard Knott, Editorial Associates, Montreal, P.Q.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to dealers.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

A trio of 19-year-olds were fined a total $80 for liquor offences when they pleaded guilty to charges in Saanich police court Tuesday.

Frederick Morry, Westholme Hotel, was fined $50 for drinking beer in a public place; Donald Hugh McLaren, Colwood, was fined $15 for being a minor in possession of rum and George Haines, 3011 Scott, was fined $15 for being a minor in possession of beer. Offences were committed separately.

THURSDAY MEETINGS

HOOR OF ENTERTAINMENT

May Queen Ceremony Set For Tonight in Esquimalt

Pretty Margaret Francis, 1347 Sussex Street, will be crowned Esquimalt May Queen tonight at 6.30 in ceremonies at Esquimalt Memorial Park.

The 13-year-old Grade 7 pupil at Lamson Street School will be crowned by Mrs. James Allen, wife of Lieut. Col. Allen of the PPCLI.

Margaret's princesses will be Sandra Smith, 1127 Heald Avenue, and Bonnie Bligh, 1147 Wychbury Avenue.

1958 queen Gail Wakeman, 1036 Lyall Street, and her princesses, Catherine Morgan, 894 Devonshire Road, and Linda Chipping, 551 Agnes Street.

Participating in the hour-long entertainment program following the crowning will be a dance group directed by Florence Clough, dance groups from Esquimalt High and Lamson Street schools, the Esquimalt School band and Gerry Dunn's Spinning Stars, a square dance group.

Convener is Mrs. Robert McVie.

Mother's Day Gift Folders Hold Dainty Lingerie Sets

By PENNY SAVER

Give the "younger than springtime" mother a gift so pretty and frivolous she would never think of buying it for herself. There are dainty lace lingerie sets—half-slips and panties—just made to be cherished by the woman who loves delicate clothes.

The slip is of soft nylon chiffon overlaid with fine lace. Panties have front panels of matching lace. Small, medium and large sizes come in a rainbow of delectable shades, from deep roses, through foam greens, to soft beige. The set is $2.98. For the mother of any age, there is a soft pastel bed jacket, in light-as-air nylon with lace trim. Sleeves are three-quarter length. Colors: Pink, white and muted turquoise. Price is $2.62.

Is she a concert lover? Powerful but dainty opera glasses come collapsible these days! Thin leatherette case snaps open, large lenses flip up. Eye pieces are fully adjustable. They're in red, brown and other leather colors. If she lives by the sea, she may keep them on a window sill. Then she can have 'em handy when an interesting freighter or ship goes by.

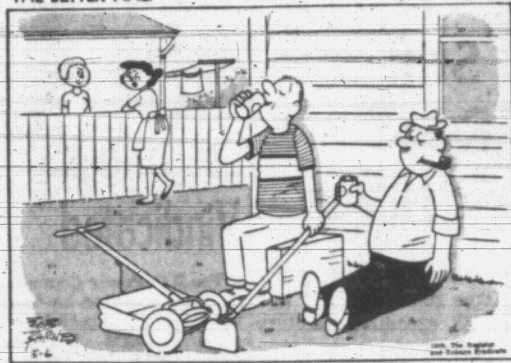

You could go just a little sentimental on Mother's Day, and give her a long-play record of some of her favorite music. If it's Ireland she's loving, why not a 12-inch longplay of all the favorite Irish songs? Record costs just $1.98. Or favorites sung by Lauritz Melchior, or Ezio Pinza? There are records of lilting waltzes, Brahms' symphonies on this same series. All are $1.98.

For a token gift I noticed address books of beautifully tooled leatherette, in powder blues, pinks, soft greens, for just 29 cents. If she writes letters, give her this. She'll love it.

Victoria's little shops are full of perfect ideas for Mother's Day. Call me for the names of the ones I visited for today's items. The number is EV-2-3131.

On Etiquette

Disapproving parents create problem:

My fiancé and I have both been married before. Our wedding in a month will be very quiet with only the families and a few close friends present, about 25 in all. We will each have one attendant. I am 38 and have always devoted a great deal of time to my parents as I live at home. My husband-to-be is a fine man and everyone likes him except my parents, who won't even speak to him. Evidently they will not attend the wedding, so should we have a reception under the circumstances? If so, what would you suggest we serve besides cake?

Louise Davis answers:
It would be permissible for you to have a small and informal gathering of friends and relatives after your wedding, but naturally you wouldn't have it at your own home as long as your parents aren't co-operating. Here is an idea which might save face all around—That is to do nothing after the ceremony, unless you both and your two attendants dine quietly together. Then after you return from your wedding trip, entertain with an open house. Invite your friends to drop in on a certain day between the hours of such and such. In that way, you wouldn't be fanning the parental flame as if you entertained on your wedding day. Your party would not be a wedding reception, but a substitute. If you decide to have a small reception on the day you are married, I suggest punch, canapés and cake. If you decide on an open house later, you could have punch and canapés, or could even go as far as serving a substantial buffet dinner.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

We All Have Symptoms Of Mental Illness at Times

Years ago when someone acted in completely illogical ways, was terribly hard to get along with, was constantly blue or moody or showed any other abnormal symptoms, we just shrugged our shoulders and called him or her, "mean" or "eccentric." It never would have occurred to us to try to get expert help for the individual.

Today the thinking is entirely different. We know that mental illness is an illness just like any other disability, and that the sooner it is treated the surer the cure. Yet even today loads of people need help who do not get it.

Not everyone is able to stand the strains and stresses of life. How well you can "take it" is partly a matter of inheritance. Some folks just naturally are tougher emotionally than others; just as some are more rugged physically.

We all act irrationally at times. We are all sometimes unreasonably cross. We have our blue days. We have days when nothing seems interesting and we have no zest for life. We all show practically every symptom of mental illness at times. This is only a matter for concern if the attitude or the mood is chronic.

There should be no more stigma attached to getting help from a psychiatrist than consulting a doctor about some physical ailment. Sometimes the symptoms of an emotional disturbance show up in early childhood. If often does at teen age.

The prognosis for cure is very encouraging. About seven out of 10 patients in mental hospitals recover completely or partially if they have the right treatment soon enough. Not so very long ago schizophrenia was thought of as practically hopeless. Today when adequate treatment is available, two out of every three of these patients are discharged as entirely or partially cured. In the case of minor disturbances the outlook is even brighter.

Here are a few of the symptoms which should be investigated if they are progressive in intensity or of long standing. As I have said we all have most of them once in a while but for a short period.

Prolonged intense sullenness, irritability or moodiness; withdrawal from friends, family or fellow workers; violent outbursts; a feeling of persecution, hoarding the feeling of being unloved or disliked; talk or behavior which doesn't make sense; lack of interest in work; a great deal of day-dreaming, any strange ideas which have nothing to do with reality; exaggerated anxiety, the constant fear that something is going to happen, misplaced worry; deep depression, destructive behavior; deep feelings of inferiority. These are a few of the symptoms.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Cocktails for Visitors

Tuesday evening in the Rutland Road home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Husband, delegates in Victoria for the annual meeting of the Canadian Shipbuilding and Ship Repairing Association at the Empress Hotel and their wives were entertained at a cocktail party. There were 42 guests.

Wives of delegates were guests today at a luncheon party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Wallace will entertain this evening at "Riffington," their home on Beach Drive, at a dinner party for the visitors.

Thursday afternoon, wives will be taken on a tour of the Butchart Gardens, followed by a tea at the home of Mrs. John Wallace on Beach Drive.

Convention will conclude Thursday evening with a banquet for delegates and their wives in the Empress Hotel.

From Germany

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McGill, Mayfair Drive, for a few days, are their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Galloway, who flew home from Germany, arriving here last Sunday. Mrs. Galloway is the former Miss Edith McGill. Her husband is with the judge-advocate's staff of the United States Air Force. It is their first visit to Victoria in five years.

Going Abroad

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Hunkin will leave Victoria on Thursday for Montreal, from where they sail in the S.S. Homeric for an extended visit in the British Isles and on the Continent. They will be joined in Vancouver by Mrs. Hunkin's sister, Mrs. H. McLorie, who is coming from her home in California to travel with them overseas. Mr. and Mrs. Hunkin do not expect to return to Victoria for six months.

Salt Spring Party

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. B. Frederick honored Mr. Ron Wood at a farewell party in their home at Ganges recently. Mr. Wood, who has been on staff of the Ganges branch of the Bank of Montreal has been transferred to Vancouver. The honor guest was presented with a pigskin alarm clock on behalf of bank staff by Mr. Fredericks, who is the manager. Special guest was Mr. Leslie Baird, transferred from Williams Lake to take Mr. Baird's place. Others present were Miss Elsy Price, Mrs. G. A. Mathewson and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Roberts.

Artist Honored

Mrs. Norma MacDonald entertained Tuesday evening at her home on Deal Street at cocktails to honor Miss Emily Sartain, whose showing of flower paintings opens in the Oak Bay Beach Hotel today. A dinner party was given by Mrs. MacDonald later at the hotel. Among guests were Miss Victoria Phipps, Mrs. Helen Connolly, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Campbell and from out of town Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Crossman of Oakland, Calif.; Mrs. Clarence Dickie and Mr. and Mrs. J. Johnston of Montreal, Mrs. Sidney Trevett and Mrs. G. H. Meese of Carmel, Calif.; Dr. and Mrs. R. McAdam of North Vancouver, Mrs. Archie Muir of Vancouver, and Mrs. Barbara Grigg, England.

Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Allen, of Vancouver, are visitors in the city and are staying with Mr. Allen's mother, Mrs. Cecil J. Holms, Rockland Avenue.

Here From Ottawa

Commissioner C. E. Rivett-Carnac, RCMP, and Mrs. Rivett-Carnac left Victoria this morning after spending two days as guests at the Empress Hotel. While here, the Rivett-Carnacs were honored at a party in the new RCMP Mess on Burdett Street. Mr. and Mrs. Dugald McGregor entertained Tuesday evening at the cocktail hour for the couple at their Lansdowne Road home. Their youngest daughter, Miss Frances Rivett-Carnac, who is formerly of Victoria, and attended St. Margaret's School here, is guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Cox and Miss Wendy Cox at their home on Monterey Avenue. Miss Rivett-Carnac will be in the city until May 18. Then she will travel to Vancouver to visit former Victorians, Mr. and Mrs. John Gooderham and Miss Gail Gooderham.

For Newcomers

Newcomers to Victoria who formerly made their homes as far away as Scotland and England, with those from points in Canada and the United States were guests of the Hudson's Bay Company recently at a Welcome Wagon Tea held in the Douglas Room. Mrs. Sybil Bateman, Mrs. Florence Corbett and Mrs. Irene Warren, the company's public relations representative, received the guests. Head tea table was covered with a handmade lace cloth and centred with tulips, narcissi and candles. Guest tables had pale green cloths and were identified with names of countries from which guests had come. Door prizes were won by Mrs. P. N. Hamilton, Neepawa, Man., and Mrs. E. Campbell, Toronto. There were 66 guests.

STARLIGHT QUEEN CHOSEN AT BALL

Mrs. Barbara McCormack, left of Xi Xi Chapter, was named Queen at the annual Starlight Ball sponsored by Beta Sigma Phi Sorority last Saturday evening in Holyrood House. Judging of contestants was done at a cocktail party in the home of Col. and Mrs.

J. R. Kingham, prior to the ball. Judges were Mrs. Kay Ellis, at right, Mr. Cy Porter and Mr. T. Barr. In background of picture is Mrs. Gwen Carrier, head of the sorority's President's Council. Ball was arranged by the council with assistance of local chapters.

Gown Of Taffeta Worn By Bride

A dress of shimmering white taffeta was worn by lovely bride, Miss Annlyn Doreen Florence, for her marriage to Lawrence Phillip (Phil) Lambriek in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church recently. Bodice was fashioned with a sabrina neckline of chantilly lace. Sleeves were lily point. Full bodice was accented by a full hooped skirt touched with inserts of matching lace. Rhinestones and iridescent sequins encrusted her dainty coronet which held a fingertip length veil. She carried a bouquet of gardenias, stephanotis and ivy.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Florence, Walter Avenue, and her groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Lambriek, Torquay Drive. Dr. J. L. W. McLean officiated at the evening service. Cyril Warren, organist, played

House Guest

Mr. Clifford Ramcharan will return to Vancouver on Saturday after spending the week as guest of Mr. Larry Johns at the Somass Drive home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. T. H. Johns. Mr. Ramcharan, whose home is in Trinidad, and Mr. Johns, attended the University of British Columbia together.

Tables Turned

Men's Club of Our Lady of Rosary Church, Langford, will turn the tables slightly this Sunday and entertain at a tea for mothers of the parish. Affair will be held in the parish hall, Goldstream Avenue, at 2.30 p.m. Members of the Men's Club will convene and serve the tea.

traditional music. Bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Caroline Florence, maid of honor, wore a ballerina length gown in green taffeta with cummerbund of nylon chiffon. Dresses in the same style but in different shades of lilac were worn by bridesmaids, Miss Valerie Rose and Miss Heather Main. All carried bouquets of lilac.

Al Smith was best man and ushers were Douglas Rose and Dick Varley.

Three Christened

Infant baptized recently in Our Lady of the Rosary Church, Langford, was Lloyd Anthony, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Guillemaud, Langford. Lloyd's godparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Herfst, Victoria. In another service, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Doll, Bray Road, Langford, received the names William Gerald. Mr. John MacIsaac and Mrs. Madeline Monetti are the child's godparents. Mrs. MacIsaac stood proxy for Mrs. Monetti who was absent. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Meredith stood proxy for godparents Mr. William Shehe and Mrs. Ruth Petrie, Nova Scotia, for the baptism of Stephen Vincent, son of CPO Dennis Tomkins and Mrs. Tomkins, Goldstream Avenue. Rev. W. J. O'Brien officiated at all the ceremonies.

An ornament from the bride's uncle and aunt's wedding cake topped a three-tier cake at a reception in the Golden Slipper Supper Club. George Campion proposed the toast.

Travelling on a honeymoon to Washington and Oregon states, the bride wore a pale grey blin and blin suit. Her hat and gloves were in cherry fazz tone and she wore a pearl necklace with matching earrings, gift of the groom.

Newlyweds will live in a new home at 4130 Tyndall Avenue.

Couple Say Vows

First United Church was setting for the wedding when Judith Darlene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lundblad of Victoria, exchanged vows with Robert James Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Thompson of Calgary.

Rev. A. I. Higgins officiated at the evening service, and organist was Malcolm Hamilton.

For her marriage, the bride chose a white floor-length gown of nylon with skirt posed over wide hoops. A rhinestone tiara held her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

She was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. D. Lodge, matron of honor, wore a pearl toned nylon dress with matching jacket. She had a bouquet of pink carnations and white narcissus. Golden yellow was shade of organza gown worn by bridesmaid, Miss Virlee Lunblad. She carried a bouquet of blue marguerites and yellow stocks. Flower girl Brenda Lunblad wore a turquoise nylon frock and carried pink carnations and blue marguerites.

Best man was Robert Espin and ushers were Maurice Tickle and Alan Gifford.

Balmoral Room, Holyrood House, was scene of the reception.

For a wedding trip to the United States the new Mrs. Thompson wore a blue sheath style dress, feather bandeau, en tone and bone white coat and accessories.

The couple will make their home at 1246 Montrose Street.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father. She wore a waltz-length gown of Valencia lace over heaven blue crystal taffeta. Handcut scallops outlined the sabrina neckline and the long sleeves were lily point. Fitted bodice was styled on empire lines over the princess skirt. Her embroidered crown of sequins held her illusion veil which misted to chapel length. Pink rapture roses, stephanotis and white glitter leaves were in the bridal bouquet. Her only jewelry was a strand of cultured pearls, gift of the groom.

Candy pink crystal taffeta formed gowns worn by bridal attendants Miss Trudie Storrie, Miss Sharon Turner and little Debbie Turner. All carried shower bouquets of pink roses outlined with white carnations and glitter leaves.

Harold Saunders was best man and ushers were Ray Rafter and Tom Derbyshire.

A reception was held at the Plaza Hotel. George Rafter proposed the toast. A three-tier cake was cut by the newlyweds.

Travelling on honeymoon to the Okanagan Valley, the bride wore a Blin and Blin suit in tobacco brown. Her accessories were in beige and she had a white carnation corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home at Cedar-by-the-Sea.

Victorians who travelled up for the wedding were Mrs. I. E. Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. George Ewen, Miss Lynn Speller, Mr. William Jones, Mr. Jack Lowe and Miss Joan Christie.

Blueberries, flaky crust and swirls of meringue makes perfect treat for Mother's Day.

Streamlined Approach—Lemon Juice, Mixes

For the thinking woman who wants her recipes streamlined but the finished product to still have that old-fashioned quality, here's a new approach to blueberry-cobbler.

Spiked with fresh lemon juice, the luscious blueberry filling is encased in a flaky crust and topped with a swirl of meringue. And, it's all done with ease thanks to pie crust mix and meringue mix.

LEMON BLOSSOM COBBLER

One and a half sticks pie crust mix, 6 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 cups liquid, reserved from canned blueberries plus water, 2 tablespoons butter, 1/2 cup fresh lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel, 1 can (15 ounces) blueberries

(1 cup), 1 packet meringue mix.

Prepare pie dough as directed on instant mixing pie crust mix package except before mixing, add grated peel of 1/2 lemon. Line a 6x9 1/2-inch baking dish. Combine cornstarch, sugar and salt in saucepan. Gradually stir in blueberry liquid. Bring to a rolling boil. Cook 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Stir in butter, lemon juice, peel and blueberries. Pour filling into unbaked pastry-lined baking dish. Top with meringue mix prepared according to package directions. Seal meringue to outer edges of dish. Bake in moderate oven (375) 25 to 30 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

Canadian Mother of Year Makes Toys for Children

OTTAWA (UPI)—A Danish-born Canadian, who with her Swiss-born husband has made more than 600 toys in the last three years for children's homes, has been named "the new Canadian mother of the year."

Mrs. Lilian Spiess of Toronto was chosen from over 400 new Canadian mothers who competed for the honor.

Mrs. Spiess will be honored at a reception today to be attended by Immigration Minister Ellen Fairclough and representatives of the Danish and Swiss embassies.

Mrs. Spiess emigrated from Denmark six years ago and was married in 1954. She and her husband, Ernest, have one son, Marcel. But it was her devotion to less fortunate children which contributed to her selection.

"She has shown the highest attributes of motherhood," the judges said, "in that she has not only been an exemplary mother to her own child, but she has had a heart big enough to mother 600 Children's Aid children who had no mother to fashion toys for them."

As winner of the competition, sponsored by FTD-Interflora, an international florists-by-wire florists' association, Mrs. Spiess will receive a bouquet of flowers every month, plus a bouquet which she can wire to anyone she chooses, a long-distance phone call to anyone in the world and a holiday tour of Ottawa.

The award, first presented last year, was set up to honor mothers who left their homeland abroad and have shown faith in Canada by adopting it as the new homeland for their families.

Heirloom Veil, Taffeta Gown, Worn By Lovely Bride, Fay Brown

An heirloom veil of Honiton lace was worn by bride Miss Fay Marie Brown for her marriage in Knox Presbyterian Church, Sooke, recently.

Her gown of white taffeta was cut on princess lines. It featured a soft V neckline and lily point sleeves. The skirt swept into chapel length. Only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom.

A white orchid, surrounded by stephanotis formed the bridal bouquet.

She was escorted up the aisle by her father.

Dr. E. A. Wright conducted the double-ring ceremony. F. McDowell was organist.

Bride is the daughter of Alfred Brown, Sasenok, and the late Mrs. Brown and the groom, a son of Mrs. Norman H. Matthews, Victoria, and the late Mr. Matthews.

As attendants, the bride's two sisters, Misses Connie and Susan Brown were identically dressed in chiffon gowns of daffodil yellow and mauve, respectively. They had small satin and net hats and carried white Bibles topped with stephanotis. White organza frocks tied with bright sashes in mauve and yellow were worn by flower girls, Kathy and Karen Pimlott. They carried baskets of stephanotis and freesia.

Best man was James Campbell and ushers were Douglas Alexander and Allen Olmstead.

A linen suit desert sand shade was worn by the new Mrs. Matthews for the wedding trip. Her accessories were in alligator and green and she wore an orchid corsage. Newlyweds will make their home in Vancouver.

Thirty Thousand Teachers Needed

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada needs at least 33,660 qualified teachers to replace unqualified instructors in publicly-controlled schools, says a national survey of teacher qualifications.

A report by the Canadian Teachers' Federation on trends in certification standards says that in 1956-57 teachers with less than junior matriculation, and only one year of teacher training, made up 19.2 per cent of Canada's 123,340 teachers. This figure represents the "current minimum shortage" of qualified teachers, the 30-page report says.

Adding an estimated 500 teachers needed to take care of students taking correspondence courses, and another 9,000 to eliminate overcrowding in classrooms, the minimum shortage would be 33,160 teachers, the report says.

In 1957 some 16,000 children took correspondence courses. They would have attended regular schools had qualified teachers been available.

As for overcrowding, the report says one teacher for 35 pupils is the desirable figure, but it would take at least 9,000 teachers to relieve the problem, with some classrooms having as many as 60 pupils. The "maximum shortage," defined as teachers with less than senior matriculation plus a year of teacher training, is 41,761 teachers.

The report points up what federation officials have called the profession's "diminishing ability" to attract a fair share of qualified people, despite the fact that the education level for all Canadians is higher. "The plain fact is that teaching did not obtain its fair share of the high school graduates over the years from 1941 to 1951."

DEAR ABBY...

No Wonder You're Burned Up!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My wife has a disease. Telephonitis. She can talk on the phone for two and three hours at a time. She puts things on the stove to cook and then gets on the phone. The food and the pot get burned up and she throws out the food together with the pot. She has already thrown out $135 worth of pots and pans that were guaranteed by the manufacturer to last a lifetime. She keeps buying new ones. What do you do with a wife like that?

FED UP

DEAR FED UP: If your wife is cooking on all her burners, she should be punished and disciplined like a child. She needs a stopwatch and a timekeeper... or just a plain keeper. There is no excuse for such behavior if a doctor says she is competent to be alone in the house.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and have never been allowed to go on a date with a boy. My mother says, "Parties with boys are all right at somebody's house if both parents are home" (and she drives me there and picks me up) but that is all! She is trying to make me an old maid and she's got a good start. That isn't all, Abby, she is trying to make me fat so no boys will look at me. I'm the only child and she bakes a chocolate cake, pecan rolls and strudle every week and tells me to eat it or she'll have to throw it out. Please help me, Abby, before I do something desperate.

OLD MAID

DEAR OLD (?) MAID: Invite the boy to your home and let your mother see him. If he's "nice" (and he probably is) she'll be more apt to let you go out with him. As for "making" you eat all those fattening things... use your noodle and pass up the strudle.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is that everyone tells me I am a fool for being so plain when I could be (excuse me, Abby) "sexy." I don't like tight clothes, so I wear full skirts and my sweaters are two sizes bigger than the salesgirl says is my correct size. I am 22 and have a good job and go out on dates now and then, but the men don't exactly fall over themselves to date me. Do you think I should take a few tucks in my clothes? Not enough to cheapen me but enough to show that I have plenty of everything and where it is located?

PLAIN JANE

DEAR JANE: Compromise. A little tuck can change your luck.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are thinking of buying a gym set for our children. My question is this: If I ask the mothers of the other children who will be using our swings to sign a paper releasing us from any liability should their child get hurt on our property, would it be legal? Our yard is not fenced in and it would be difficult to keep the other children out or to watch them constantly.

MRS. B.

DEAR MRS. B.: Your question is a very intelligent one. Ask a lawyer.

CONFIDENTIAL TO L. L.: I agree. Let a sleeping dog lie... but wake up your husband and ask him to tell you the truth.

"How can I get him to notice me?" Get ABBY'S booklet, "What Every Teen-Ager Wants To Know." Send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY in care of this paper.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Precious Jewels Become Extinct

LONDON (AP)—Rubies and emeralds are getting scarcer and scarcer.

A survey of the London gem markets shows so few of these rare stones now are being mined that London dealers are mostly getting their supplies from old pieces of jewelry.

"Mining of rubies and emeralds of fine quality has virtually ceased," one expert said. "The ruby mines of Burma have been exhausted. Colombia, the main source of emeralds, is producing few good stones now."

India has become the main source for second-hand emeralds, sapphires and rubies. Rubies are so scarce that fine ones larger than five to eight carats seldom are seen. Prices have shot up in consequence. On the London market, a six-carat ruby would be worth about £12,000 ($23,600), more than twice the price of a diamond weighing the same.

SOLUTION FRIDAY

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"Hollywood's not for me just now—I'm a Broadway cat," Tom Poston said. "I dig that legit stage."

And so Steve Allen's great TV comedy trio of Tom, Louis Nye and Don Knotts comes unglued when Steve moves his whole show to California in about five weeks, lock, stock and wife.

"Steve and Jules Green (Steve's manager) asked me—but I think my field is here," added Tom, the zany from Boston, and Columbus who can never remember his name on the show.

"What if Ed Sullivan made you an offer?"

"Oh, I don't see how I could do that, out of loyalty!"

"You've got a deal with a Sullivan already!" snapped a feminine voice—that of his wife, busy TV commercialist Jean Sullivan.

Tom's on "To Tell the Truth" and stars in an off-Bway show, "Come Play With Me." He got rave notices in "Drink to Me Only" earlier this year. And—he's recovering from a traffic accident in which he hurt his leg.

"You're a motorcyclist, aren't you?" we asked . . . "WAS!" he said.

"But you have a motorcycle?"

"HAD! It was demolished. I can't ride any more after that. It's silly. But it was all right at the time. Some of us don't have expensive accounts, you know!"

I had reported Tom'd been hurt riding a scooter.

"What d'ya mean, a scooter? I'm a big boy, now!" Tom said. "I was about to demand a retraction. Then I thought, 'That's pretty silly, sitting here getting mad about how I got hurt!'"

Fredric March, the two-time Oscar winner, likes to write jokes and has submitted to me following:

"What about the absent-minded fellow who, when his wife asks him where he's been for two weeks, and why he's broke, replies, 'I haven't Las Vegas idea!'"

The Bolshoi Ballet will go on TV live from Hollywood in June via Skiatron (in theatres in about 60 cities closed-circuit, just like championship fights). It's a big coup for Skiatron Head Matty Fox who shut out other TV bidders . . . Hugh O'Brian will give a party at the Harwyn for Miss Rheingold losers . . . Lee Mortimer's hospitalized and (no connection) the Hy Gardners are planning a happy announcement.

A "rich playboy" in the headlines recently, let his gal pick up the tab 'cause it's his pappy who's loaded . . . Gene Courtney's playing Cannes and the London spot with the best salary: "No more of this prestige baloney," mutters she.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL: Ed Sullivan'll take 40 people to Russia for two Tvers, for he'll also put on shows nightly at the Moscow Trade Fair for three weeks (request of State Dept.) . . . Perry Como's top writer Goodman Ace says he's made no deal to quit Perry yet, though there are offers. Denying he gets $13,000 to $15,000 a week, he says, "If I do, the FBI should get after me, because I don't declare that much."

EARL'S PEARLS: Hollywood is where more parents than children run away from home.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: We heard of the woman who had to let her maid go—because her husband wouldn't.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Comie Joe Adams tells of the deep sea diver who got a frantic message from the surface: "Come up quick—the boat's sinking!"

There are so many out-of-work showgirls along B'way that one complained, "You have to wait on line to have a producer get fresh with you." That's earl, brother.

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question to ask Andy, Victoria Daily Times. Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Susan Carter, aged 11, of Santaquin, Utah, for her question:

Does a Frog Hold His Breath Under Water?

The frog is an amphibian, a land and water dweller. His kinfolk include the toads and salamanders. Some 350 million years ago the first back-boned animal left the sea to live on the dry land. This fellow was an amphibian. Mother Nature smiled on this great victory. She rewarded the amphibians with certain gifts which they have to this day. One of these gifts is a special skin which can absorb or breathe oxygen from the water. So, when you see a frog squatting under the water for 10 or 20 minutes, he is not holding his breath. He is breathing through his skin.

All amphibians begin life as fish, during which time they breathe oxygen from the water through fishy gills. Certain salamanders keep their gills and remain fish all their lives. Some give up their gills but do not grow lungs. These fellows breathe through their skin, especially through the skin lining of the mouth and throat. Most amphibians trade their baby gills for adult lungs.

Frogs are among this last group. The teen-age frog has a pair of lungs for breathing land. He can live on the dry land. He also has the wonderful skin of the amphibian which can absorb free oxygen from the water. This, of course, is a gift he inherited from his brave, remote ancestor, a fellow who left his footprints in the mud of the young Appalachian mountains.

The amphibian skin contains tiny glands which give off a shiny substance called mucus. This mucus evaporates in the air, and this evaporation makes the skin cooler than the air around the amphibian. When you pick up a frog or toad who has been sitting in the air his skin feels cool and dry. In this condition the amphibian is breathing air through his lungs.

Drinks From Dewy Grass

The frog or toad cannot absorb moisture through his skin from damp and humid air, but he can from the damp ground and the dewy grass. Toads, who do not return to the water as adults, get all their drinking water by this process. Frogs absorb their dripping water through the skin when they return to the pond. Amphibians never take a drink of water through the mouth as we do.

When a frog is under water the little glands in his skin cover him with slimy mucus and it does not evaporate as it does in the air. It works to capture free oxygen in the water, dissolve it and take it directly into the frog's bloodstream. Meantime, the marvelous skin of the amphibian is taking in all the drinking water the little frog needs.

from a point on the southern shores of the Mediterranean Sea to Cape Horn, way below reaches from the tip of the Gulf of Aden in the east to Dakar on the western shoreline which bulges out into the Atlantic. This line, the width of Africa, is about 4,600 miles.

As a continent, Africa is second in area only to the continent of Asia. Its total area is estimated to be 11,600,000 square miles. It has room to swallow Canada, Mexico, the United States including Alaska, and still have room for desert.

JOVIAL MR. K. AT U.S. FAIR

MOSCOW (AP)—Spry and grinning, Premier Nikita Khrushchev paid a surprise visit Monday to the site of this summer's American Exposition.

Happily joshing the workmen, posing in a steelworker's hat, clambering briskly over construction piles, and praising the designs, Khrushchev appeared tanned and healthy after his Black Sea holiday.

LAST YEAR IT WAS CARS

Typewriter 'Bug' Infects Aldermen

Every year the tensions of setting a budget that will keep all citizens happy produces some temporary quirk in city council.

Last year it was cars. Aldermen questioned, analyzed, debated, disputed, decided and denied almost every single proposed appropriation for cars, whether a routine replacement or a much-needed addition that was fully documented.

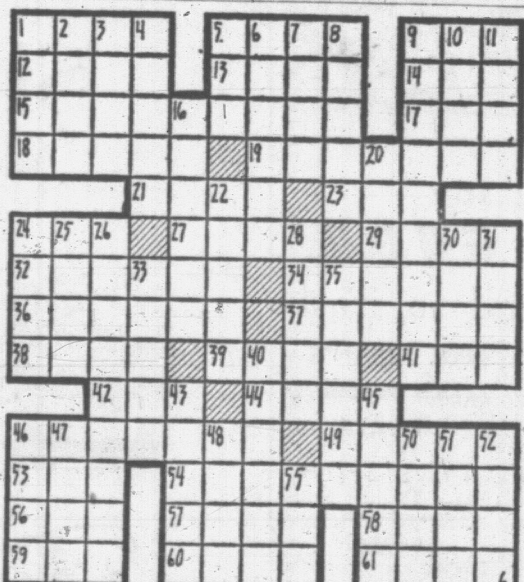

This year it is typewriters. During the first three hours of budget considerations, aldermen spent more than half an hour hunting down typewriters in about a dozen estimates.

FOUND THREE

They found three were proposed for purchase this year. All the pros and cons of purchasing the $260 machines were argued at length—with Ald. M. H. Mooney leading the game—before two were cut and one was passed.

The remaining time was devoted to considering estimates totalling almost $700,000.

FAIR FUN

First-aid station had only one visitor during the two days of the fair—a five-year-old girl with a cut lip, sustained from tripping over backwards while watching the juggling act.

"Things are much quieter than I expected," mused Mrs. Jennie Harvey, 712 Yates.

One booth operator reported orders for $600 of home-decorating equipment within the first two hours.

Several others said they were "doing nicely." Three stall-holders looked glum and pointed to blank order books.

Fortune-tellers' booth was like Grand Central Station at times.

One man came out to say: "They told me I was coming into a lot of money," and walked away laughing.

His occupation? Bank teller.

"It's amazing the things you'll try when you've got kids," said Adrian Gilmore, Community Chest secretary.

"My four (Lloyd, 11, Wayne, 9, Shannon, 7, and Colleen, 5), want me to meet them at the rabbit show, then I'm going to take my first ride on the ferris wheel. But nobody—and I mean nobody—gets me on the Whip."

Selling tickets on the $25,000 dream house for the fourth year in succession was Mrs. Margaret Liesch, 640 Jones Terrace.

Wife of a local store manager, she "talked a neighbor into baby-sitting" her two children—Mark, five, and Susan, three—while doing what is now becoming a very familiar selling job.

LIZ AND EDDIE SET THE DATE

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Eddie Fisher says he and Elizabeth Taylor will marry in Las Vegas, Nev., next Tuesday, with Michael Todd, Jr., serving as best man.

Fisher said there will be two ceremonies, a civil and a Jewish one.

The latter will be performed by Rabbi Max Nussbaum, who recently converted Miss Taylor to Judaism, the same faith as Fisher.

BUT 'CHARLEY'S AUNT' PLEASES

Lay-Off Hurt UBC Players

A "dress rehearsal" type of performance that was nevertheless enjoyed by a capacity audience at Oak Bay Junior High School Tuesday night, marked this year's visit to Victoria of the touring University of British Columbia Players' Club.

The well-worn — and well-wearing — farce comedy, "Charley's Aunt," is a somewhat surprising choice for such a group; in fact it hardly seems worthy of the considerable talent that was displayed on this occasion.

UNTIDY DETAIL

Too long a gap between the polished peak of its production at the University and start of its tour here on the Island, resulted in much untidy detail and slow cues throughout. As a consequence the first act was dragged out and while obvious laughs were gained, more subtle comedy was lost.

Particularly for a touring company, sets and costumes were excellent.

VICTORIAN

John Sparks, one of the most promising young actors Victoria has produced in recent years, showed frequently his superb sense of comedy timing but it was by no means an even performance, suffering as did the rest of the cast, from a lack of "tightening" rehearsals.

Notable performances were also given by Everett Hooper as "Brasset," and Aileen Barker, who as the real aunt from Brazil—Donna Lucia—developed a real feeling for the period.

Another Victorian, Valerie Neilson, was seen to advantage in a competent performance.

BOVINE FASHION SHOW AT THE FAIR

Cows! How Do You Figure Them?

By DAVID COWLISHAW

Cows!

When you want them to go straight, they amble sideways. Head them due east and they'll collapse on the ground. Pat them kindly on the head and they'll lift you smartly in the rear.

Sun-seeking Victorians found this out Tuesday at the Jaycee fair—attended by 14,000—when they deserted the darker confines of Memorial Arena to watch the cattle-judging outside.

Actually, it was more of a bovine fashion show.

Scrubbed from snout to udder, the 1,500-pound black-and-white beasts looked nothing like the common-or-garden cows when they sauntered out into the grass arena.

EARS PLUCKED

They had been brushed down and polished up. Their ears were plucked, their hair combed. And it was a very saucy, un-cow-like jig they danced while they were being judged and classified.

Sig Peterson of Courtenay, did this, noting rump, leg, shoulder and hindquarter characteristics while the cows played ring-a-ring-o-roses and a man gave a running commentary over a microphone.

"Now, here's a nice hunk of cow," he intoned. "Lots of cow there, all right. Lots of refinement, too. Note the straight, straight rump. Delightful!"

A big piebald $1,000 cow got out of the way, then a reddish-colored monster lumbered by.

And so it went on for most of the afternoon—a parade of 46 Holsteins and Shorthorn beef—that was a welcome change from the more mundane girls' fashion show going on inside the arena.

RESULTS:

Holstein—Class 1, senior calf: 1. Jager Farm; 2. William Taylor; 3. J. Looy; 4. William Taylor; 5. Jager Farm.

Class 2, junior yearling: 1. William Taylor and son; 2. Jager Farm; 3. William Taylor and son; 4. Jager Farm.

Class 3, senior yearling: 1. Jager Farm; 2. William Taylor; 3. J. Looy; 4. Jager Farm.

Class 4, dry cow, two years old: 1. William Taylor; 2. Jager Farm; 3. William Taylor; 4. Jager Farm.

Class 5, dry cow, three years old: 1. Jager Farm; 2. William Taylor; 3. J. Looy; 4. Jager Farm.

Class 7, junior get (three animals of one sire under two years): 1. Jager Farm; 2. William Taylor; 3. William Taylor; 4. William Taylor.

Class 8, two animals any age: 1. William Taylor; 2. William Taylor; 3. Shorthorn beef—Class 1, senior calf: No entries.

BUT 'CHARLEY'S AUNT' PLEASES

Lay-Off Hurt UBC Players

A "dress rehearsal" type of performance that was nevertheless enjoyed by a capacity audience at Oak Bay Junior High School Tuesday night, marked this year's visit to Victoria of the touring University of British Columbia Players' Club.

The well-worn — and well-wearing — farce comedy, "Charley's Aunt," is a somewhat surprising choice for such a group; in fact it hardly seems worthy of the considerable talent that was displayed on this occasion.

UNTIDY DETAIL

Too long a gap between the polished peak of its production at the University and start of its tour here on the Island, resulted in much untidy detail and slow cues throughout. As a consequence the first act was dragged out and while obvious laughs were gained, more subtle comedy was lost.

Particularly for a touring company, sets and costumes were excellent.

VICTORIAN

John Sparks, one of the most promising young actors Victoria has produced in recent years, showed frequently his superb sense of comedy timing but it was by no means an even performance, suffering as did the rest of the cast, from a lack of "tightening" rehearsals.

Notable performances were also given by Everett Hooper as "Brasset," and Aileen Barker, who as the real aunt from Brazil—Donna Lucia—developed a real feeling for the period.

Another Victorian, Valerie Neilson, was seen to advantage in a competent performance.

with dependents. Under the new scale the contributions would rise to a range between 75 and 82 cents.

A weekly contribution of between 54 and 58 cents now buys protection of $21 weekly for a single worker and $28 for a married one. The new range of contributions would be between 69 and 75 cents.

But the government plans to allow increases in incidental earnings that can be made while unemployed without reducing the insurance benefits.

For example, a single person drawing $11 a week in benefits now is allowed incidental earnings up to $4 a week without reducing his insurance benefit. This allowance will be boosted to $6 under the legislation.

Employees with dependents would get higher allowances. If they draw $15 a week in insurance benefits, they can earn up to $8 on the outside without cutting into their benefits.

... CIVIC UNDER POWELL RIVER COMPANY PROPOSAL

North Park, Pandora to Oak Bay junction and then to Rockland and Government House, with some areas marked for 8-mile-per-hour speeds, which will be advertised in advance.

Arrival at Government House is set for 6.40 p.m. There are no royal appearances that evening.

VETS' HOSPITAL

On Friday, July 17, the royal party leaves Government House at 9.45 a.m. and will arrive at Veterans' Hospital for a 15-minute tour of wards and presentation of patients and senior staff leaving at 10.15 a.m.

The tour then goes to Beacon Hill Park for a civic ceremony beneath the flagstaff on Beacon Hill where the royal couple will meet Mayor Percy Scourrah and reeves of Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich.

PPCL RITE

At 10.45 a.m. the Queen and Prince Philip and party will go to the playing field in the park, west of the hill for a trooping of the color and presentation of new color to the First Battalion, Princess Patricia's Light Infantry.

An RCAF flypast by jets from coastal air stations is also scheduled for this time.

The royal party leaves the park at noon for a provincial government luncheon at Empress Hotel. Members of the clergy and the senior courts of British Columbia will be presented before the lunch at 1 p.m.

YOUTH RALLY

The royal entourage departs the hotel at 2.30 p.m. for Clover Point where youth organizations of the city will be massed for their arrival at 2.45 p.m.

The visit with the youngsters, including Scouts, Cubs, Guides, Brownies, cadets and children from supervised playground groups, will last only 15 minutes. The royal couple will witness a salmon barbecue at the Point.

GARDEN PARTY

The royal party will be at Government House for a garden party at 4.30 p.m. They will stay one hour.

After leaving the garden party at 5.30 p.m., they will make no more public appearances. But at 10 p.m. they will witness a fireworks display by RCN ships off Dallas Road from Government House.

TO PAT BAY

Departure from Victoria is scheduled for 9 a.m. Saturday the 18th. The couple will drive to Patricia Bay airport, for the Yukon.

It was also learned that the royal couple will visit the Chemainus sawmill and planer mill operations of MacMillan & Bloedel, while driving to Victoria from Nanaimo. The visit will last 45 minutes.

A picnic lunch is scheduled somewhere between Chemainus and Duncan at a secluded, secret beauty spot.

The Queen's only speech to be delivered in British Columbia will take place during the reception at the Legislative Buildings.

Still Plenty for Small Loggers

Small loggers operating within a coastal tree farm licence area requested by the Powell River Company would not be deprived of timber, the giant pulp and paper company told a forestry hearing Tuesday.

The firm's application for a tree farm licence area reaching from Powell River to the Queen Charlottes, and including a portion of Vancouver Island, is being debated before Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston.

ESSENTIAL

If granted, the licence will permit an annual cut of 52,000,000 cubic feet on a sustained-yield basis—a timber requirement which the company states is essential to its continued expansion and stability.

Forty per cent of the timber within the licence area belongs now to the company; the balance is crown timber. Within the crown area are several public working circles.

The Powell River brief states: "It proved extremely difficult to find areas where sufficient wood of suitable species could be obtained to help support our operations. We found it necessary to apply for certain areas now included in public working circles."

But the company added, it proposed "to offer for contract, with preference to local operators, the entire cut of any tree farm licence area granted to us in a public working circle, including our own ownership in such areas. Thus small operators would not be deprived of timber in these areas."

MORE TIMBER

"On the contrary they would have access to substantially additional timber under our ownership. We are prepared to offer contracts in these areas . . . on the basis of the stumpage charged to us by the forest service, plus an allowance for forest management, as set by the forest service, and to buy logs from such contractors at the going price."

The company maintained its application fulfilled all the requirements laid down by the former forestry adviser, Gordon Sloan—it is an existing industry, providing stable employment, has created stable communities and had engaged in continuous research.

OLDEST, BIGGEST

Claiming to be the oldest pulp and paper industry in the province and to have the largest newsprint mill in the world, the company noted its provisions for expansion, its tax contributions and its own contribution of forest lands to the licence area.

The company's annual requirements for its various operations were listed at 99,577,000 cubic feet of timber.

The hearing was presented with 106 individual petitions favoring granting of the licence, as well as a supporting brief from 34 independent loggers in the Broughton public working circle in the Powell River area.

The Powell River Board of Trade and Reeve Ray Weaver also made submissions favoring the application.

W. M. Hill, representative of Local 142 of the Papermakers' Union, bargaining group for 350 men in the mill, also spoke for the company's timber requests.

"And I'm not a company man and never have been," he told the minister.

"GOOD FOR US"

In the past, he said, he had been a member of a strike committee, but he and his local favored the timber licence because what is good for the company " . . . is good for us."

Vancouver lawyer Ron Howard, representing Western Forest Management Association, which opposes the principle of tree farm licences, asked whether Mr. Hill had support of other pulp and paper unionists in the province and was told no, they had not been asked.

Mr. Howard also opposed a brief submitted earlier by the department of recreation and conservation, calling for a one-year delay in granting the licence.

The department wanted time to present a plan for use of the forest area for recreation at the same time as the industrial use was going forward.

Mr. Howard felt if this was imposed on one tree farm licence, it should be imposed on all by provincial legislation.

24c Pay Hike For 250 City Painters

A 24-cent hourly pay increase for 250 Victoria painters and decorators is provided for in an agreement signed Monday with Victoria Builders' Exchange.

The new two-year contract will shoot spray painters and sand blasters up to $2.97 this year, $3.09 next year; paper-hangers to $2.72 and $2.84; hand roller coaters to $2.82 and $2.94.

Foremen in charge of four or more men will get an extra 15 cents an hour above regular rates. All rates quoted are minimum.

DOUBLE TIME

Hours worked over eight hours daily will be paid for at the rate of double time. Other changes affect holidays, shifts and out-of-town work.

Victoria pile drivers, signed a similar 12-and-12 contract last week.

Meanwhile, some 26 members of Glaziers and Glass Workers, Local 1163, received a 32-cent hourly increase over two years in a contract signed with four glass firms Monday.

Wage rates range from $1.51 to $2.55 in 1959, $1.67 to $2.65 next year.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Winners of the weekly tournament of the Victoria unit, American Contract Bridge League, were: Ethel Cleworth and Harry Parry, first; Marjorie Beale and Elizabeth Warren, second; George Beale and Les Stewart, third; and Mr. and Mrs. S. Duprau, fourth.

Dennis Metcalfe, 560 Rithet Street, was elected president of the League of the Handicapped at their annual meeting last week at the YMCA.

Mr. Metcalfe succeeds retiring president Walter A. Thomson.

Other officers elected were: Winnie Wilkins, vice-president; Arthur Spears, secretary; Audrey Harrison, treasurer, and T. Robinson, S. Taylor, A. Tedder and M. Birch, directors.

City council was full of kindness Tuesday when it approved a $630 increase for the salary of juvenile detention home supervisors Col. and Mrs. W. S. Dingley.

Aldermen were told that the couple worked a 24-hour, seven-day week and had not had any holidays for some years.

At first hesitating, aldermen passed the increase when assured that part of the cost would be recovered from the other municipalities.

The increase will allow the couple to go on a six-day week, with the hiring of a relief supervisor one day a week.

Jack Machura, no fixed address, who was charged with vagrancy when he was seen begging on Johnson Saturday, was sentenced in city police court Monday to 30 days in jail. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

City Scientist Going to Parley In Washington

A Victoria man is one of six scientists from the department of mines and technical surveys who have been invited to present technical papers at an eight-day meeting in Washington, D.C., this week.

He is G. Wilfred La Croix, 2632 Thompson, from the Victoria section of the Canadian Hydrographic Service.

The scientists will speak at the week-long symposium for distance measuring equipment being held by the International Association of Geodesy, starting today.

Others representing the department in this field are Dominion geodesist J. E. Lilly and L. A. Gale of the Geodetic Survey of Canada; and D.A. H. Charles, P. Brunavs and P. B. Draayer of the hydrographic service.

YOU MAY HAVE WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting itchy are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms or Round-Worms... only parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined.

Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of these ugly pests, they must be killed in the intestines where they live and multiply. And clinical tests have proved that JAYNE'S LIQUID Vermifuge kills both Pin-Worms and Round-Worms quickly and easily. Then they are expelled from the system in a normal manner and you are free of them.

JAYNE'S LIQUID Vermifuge has a pleasant, fruity taste. Children love it—take it without fuss or fret. Remember, Pin-Worms and Round-Worms are highly contagious and can spread through the whole family.

So, at the first sign of worms, be sure to ask your druggist for JAYNE'S LIQUID Vermifuge.

Civic Ceremony On Beacon Hill

Queen Elizabeth will receive Victoria district civic leaders in one of the area's prime beauty spots—the crest of Beacon Hill—rather than at City Hall during the two-day royal visit here in July.

Later, from the vantage point of Government House, the Queen and Prince Philip will watch units of the Royal Canadian Navy create a fireworks wonderland in Strait of Juan de Fuca.

Both spectacles are planned for fullest appreciation of the public as well.

The royal couple, after arriving on the island at Nanaimo aboard HMCS Assiniboine, will drive over the Malahat to arrive in Victoria at 3.30 p.m., Thursday, July 16. They will proceed directly to Government House and remain there until 5 p.m.

At 5.10 p.m. the Queen and Prince Philip will arrive at the Legislative Buildings where Premier W. A. C. Bennett will greet them on the steps. The royal party will enter the buildings to receive cabinet ministers and MLAs in the Legislative Assembly.

The ceremonies are expected to take 20 minutes. The royal couple there will walk to a saluting base on Belleville Street.

LONG-ARMED BOOKIE GROUNDED

HARRIS, N. J. (AP)—A crane operator at the Otis Elevator Company plant has been charged with picking up numbers bets as he passed overhead in the cab of his crane.

Allan P. Hawkins, 48, was arrested Monday and charged with possession of lottery slips.

Police said Hawkins would pick up the bets as he rode the crane through the shops, lowering a tin cup on a string to employees to place their bets.

FIRE CHIEF DISPUTED

50-MILL TAX RATE FOR CITY

City council was expected to strike a tax rate of 50 mills today, up some 2½ mills from 1958.

The surprisingly low increase—a six-mill boost was forecast—would reflect entirely the jump in school costs this year over which council has no control.

Virtually no increase in the general purpose rate was expected after aldermen slashed $49,000 from the estimates this morning.

A total of about $90,000, equivalent to one mill, was to come off the ordinary expenditures and a further 2½-mill cut on special expenditures was anticipated.

U.S. Ban On Trucks Tightened

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Trucking Associations said today that products from the British crown colony of Hong Kong cannot be trucked through United States territory on trips between Canadian points if any part of the goods originated in Communist China.

This is the latest development in a Canada-United States controversy over transportation of goods from Communist China through the U.S. between points in Canada. The federal government has protested a U.S. ban on such shipments.

John Magee, secretary of the truckers body, said American foreign assets control regulations stipulate that Hong Kong goods must carry a "certificate of origin" stating that not only the goods but the raw materials in them must be a product of the British colony.

He said certificates are not issued if any part of the goods originated in Red China.

DANEGR SPOT

SEPTIC TANK POLLUTION

Health Hazard Faces Saanich

Pollution of soil and water in open ditches is spreading like a "cancer" in all non-sewer urban areas of Saanich—creating a serious health hazard.

This warning was issued today by Neville Life, municipal engineer.

Conditions for the spread of enteric diseases, including typhoid, exist in all densely populated areas not serviced by a sewer system, he said.

The engineer, who conducted an extensive survey on municipal sewerage, advocates in a report to council, the installation of sewers in all urban areas of the municipality.

"The problem of pollution due to septic tank effluent is serious and becoming difficult to cope with," he said. "The only answer is sewer installations."

He reported that hundreds of home owners are complaining of septic tank effluent

CANADA OKAYS USAF GENERAL AS NORAD BOSS

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Pearkes today announced the Canadian government's concurrence in the appointment of Gen. Laurence S. Kuter of the United States Air Force as commander of NORAD.

Kuter, 53, former commander of the Far East Air Forces, succeeds Gen. Earle E. Partridge, who retires July 31. The appointment was made by President Eisenhower with the Canadian government's concurrence.

Mr. Pearkes said Air Marshal C. R. Slemmon of the RCAF will continue as deputy commander of the North American Air Defence Command.

NEEDS A QUEEN

Sad Shah Lonely?

LONDON (UPI)—The Shah of Iran rode through London today in a Cinderella-style coach. But the seat beside him was empty, perhaps symbolic of a vacant throne and an empty heart.

A king needs a queen and this fact was never more evident than in the Shah's elegant procession of state from Buckingham Palace to the Guildhall of London.

The 39-year-old monarch waved and smiled with courtly dignity at the crowds of Londoners who turned out to greet him on the second day of his state visit here. But there was a glimmer of sadness on the Shah's handsome face.

He did not look at the empty seat on his left even when acknowledging the applause of the sidewalk watchers.

Grandmother Attacked

NEW YORK (AP)—A 62-year-old grandmother said a young Negro tried to rape her in her bedroom today, declaring she was revenging the lynch-mob murder of Mack Charles Parker in Mississippi.

She told police she fought him off and that he fled after gagging and tying her with her stockings and robbing her of $35.

COMMONS ORDERS PROBE

'Fantastic' Moving Bill

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons public accounts committee decided today to call witnesses in an effort to find out why it cost $314 to have an RCAF officer's furniture and effects moved half a mile.

Richard A. Bell (PC, Carleton) said the amount is "simply outrageous."

"The last time I moved it cost me $25, and I went farther than half a mile," said Mr. Bell.

"This type of thing is just wasting the taxpayer's money."

The committee was discussing a case mentioned in the auditor-general's last report

Aid Period Up to 52 Weeks

OTTAWA (CP)—The cost of unemployment insurance is going up.

Under proposed government amendments, premiums on the insurance will rise about 30 per cent from present weekly contributions. Weekly rates of benefit—the maximum you can draw weekly if unemployed—will remain virtually unchanged.

These and other changes, expanding the army of insured workers and increasing the maximum length of insurance, are incorporated in government legislation now before the Commons.

Cost of the weekly premiums are borne on a 50-50 basis by the employer and employee. The bill made public today, shows, for example, that total contributions for a person earning $51 a week would be 72 cents instead of the present 56.

The weekly rate of benefit would remain at $21 a week for a single person and $30 a week for a person with dependents. Rates of contributions are increased all along the line.

CONCESSIONS

But the concessions that will aid employees include an increase in the maximum length of insurance to 52 weeks from 36 and an increased allowance for incidental earnings without reducing the rate of benefits.

The army of insurable wage-earners would be expanded to those making a maximum of $5,460 a year from the present ceiling of $4,800.

Another change is that unemployment insurance protection would be extended to prison inmates serving up to two years. This protection now is available to those serving only up to 44 weeks.

CAN DRAW MORE

The proposed new scale of benefits shows that the maximum weekly amount a person can draw when unemployed will be increased to $36 from $30 for an employee with dependents and to $27 from $23 for a single worker. This rise is to cover the new category of insured workers—those earning between $4,800 and $5,460 a year.

But the scale also shows that the average payments in contributions will have to be higher just to maintain the existing scale of benefits for the average worker.

For example, the present weekly contribution is 58 to 60 cents to buy maximum weekly insurance of $23 for a single worker and $30 for a worker

RATE TABLE

OTTAWA (CP)—Here is a comparison of the proposed schedule of weekly unemployment insurance contributions with present contributions in brackets:

Weekly wages of less than $9—10 cents (8); wages of $9 and under $15—20 (16); wages of $15 and under $21—30 (24); wages of $21 and under $27—38 (30); wages of $27 and under $33—46 (36); wages of $33 and under $39—54 (42); wages of $39 and under $45—60 (48); wages of $45 and under $51—66 (52); wages of $51 and under $57—72 (56); wages of $57 and under $63—78 (60); $63 and under $69—86 (new category); $69 and over—94 (new category).

U.K. Tips Trade Balance

LONDON (CP)—For the first time since 1865, British exports to the United States exceeded imports in March.

Ever since that year—when Lee surrendered to Grant ending the American Civil War and President Lincoln was assassinated—the balance of British-American trade has been in favor of the United States.

But an announcement Tuesday night by the official British board of trade reversed this pattern.

Its figures showed Britain sold the U.S. goods valued at $28,164,901 ($78,861,722) in March. In return Britain bought only $24,547,683 ($68,733,514) worth.

This one-month trade surplus wiped out the deficit of January and February and put Britain ahead $7,527,492 at the end of the first quarter of this year's British-American trade.

Tax-Sharing Parley

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming informed the Commons today that he has proposed Monday, July 6, as the opening date for a federal-provincial conference of finance ministers on tax-sharing arrangements.

Teamsters' Merger?

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times says the 85,000-member Bakery and Confectionery Workers International Union may merge with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters headed by James R. Hoffa.

20,000 Huts—Flooded

CARACAS, Venezuela (Reuters)—Big floods in northwest Venezuela today were threatening the country's key oil centre in the Maracaibo basin. Fed by 72 hours of continuous torrential rains, the floods have inundated 20,000 huts.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Prices generally showed firmness today on the Winnipeg grain exchange due to lack of commission house selling following reports that recent moisture in southern Saskatchewan and southwestern Manitoba was disappointing.

Broader export demand also was a factor in the upturn.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Space-Age Stocks

Space-age stocks, chemicals and selected issues were pacemakers in a moderately higher market at New York today.

Missile, electronic, rocket fuel and chemical issues posted gains of 1 to 10 points, the latter by Motorola.

Advances of around 3 or better were made by Hokol, General Precision, Wagner Electric, General Instrument, and Thompson Ramo Wooldridge.

Western oils and industrials led a dull stock market lower at Toronto today. Mid-afternoon trading was light.

AT TORONTO among industrials, banks, with the exception of Imperial, were higher. Motors were also strong, but most other groups were mixed to lower, Imperial Bank lost 5 points at 74 as the stock sold ex-rights. The bank offered one new share at $40 for each five shares held.

Seniors were weak in western oils. Great Plains and Home Oil B lost 1/2, while Royalty was off 55 cents at $9.35. Pembina Pipeline, however, gained 1/4 at 10 1/4.

AT NEW YORK Dome Mines and Walker Gooderham were off 1/4 each. Distillers Secagrams 1/4 and Hudson Bay Mining 1/4. International Nickel rose 1/4 and McIntyre Porcupine 1/4.

On the American stock exchange, Canadian Marconi rose 1/4 and Shawinigan 1/4. Brazilian Traction, Preston, East Dome and Scurry Rainbow Oil dropped 1/4 each and Fargo Oil and Jupiter Oils 3/16 each.

AT LONDON a widespread list of gains was established on the stock market today. Business optimism was again the chief stimulus.

Industrial equities led the advance. There was a renewed demand for engineering shares. Gift-edged securities, however, again drifted lower, under persistent small selling.

AT VANCOUVER a quiet market with little price change during the forenoon. Beaver Lodge moved 2,500 at 20. Bethlehem Copper traded 2,300 at $1.80. Mid West Copper sold 4,500 at 22. Trojan moved 4,500 at 15.

The outer harbor of Halifax, one of the world's finest, is four miles wide and 1,600 yards long.

MONTE ROBERTS

I have NOT been asked to tell all I know about potatoes.

This is unfortunate, because I would dearly love to tell all I know about potatoes.

In the past, I have been asked to tell all I know about a great variety of subjects, and I have done the best I could.

But nobody, nowhere, nohow, has ever asked me to tell all I know about potatoes.

Possibly this is because everybody, everywhere, everywhere, knows more about potatoes than I do.

If so, it is a great pity, because I am a potato man from way back.

I am a push-over for a potato, whether he be boiled, mashed, fried, scalloped, au gratin (except I can't pronounce it) or baked.

Especially baked. Baked in his skin in the oven, to such a state that when a knife is gently applied to his protective covering, he sends off a whiff of aromatic steam.

And beneath his skin is revealed a snowy-white, piping hot, flaky-soft mass fairly bursting to titivate the appetite and send the taste-buds reeling home to mother.

Yes, I would dearly love to tell all I know about potatoes.

Possibly the reason I haven't been asked is, I haven't encountered the type of potato over which a man can honestly drool since I came back to this, my native land.

Thus for the past 10 years I have had no experience with the true potato.

What I have encountered here is the type of potato which, I suspect, caused the Irish Rebellion.

It would not even take the temper of an Irishman to rebel at the type of potato I have been exposed to during my tenure on Vancouver Island.

It is entirely possible a proper potato has been grown on Vancouver Island, or imported to Vancouver Island from some more fortunate area.

If so, this potato has not arrived at my dinner table.

All the potatoes I have encountered in recent years have been wet, soggy, and about as tasty as unsalted glue.

They have not been fit to mash, boil, or bake, let alone eat.

If you think I am bitter on the subject of potatoes, you are so right.

Just one—just one—just one DRY, flaky, fluffy potato before I die. That is all I ask.

Possibly it is just as well nobody, nowhere, nohow asked me to tell all I know about potatoes.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

A trio of 19-year-olds were fined a total $80 for liquor offences when they pleaded guilty to charges in Saanich police court Tuesday.

Frederick Morry, Westholme Hotel, was fined $50 for drinking beer in a public place; Donald Hugh McLaren, Colwood, was fined $15 for being a minor in possession of rum and George Haines, 3011 Scott, was fined $15 for being a minor in possession of beer.

Offences were committed separately.

W. R. Foster, plant pathologist of the provincial government, will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Victoria and District Chrysanthemum Society in the city hall Thursday at 8 p.m.

Annual Art Gallery rummage sale will be held Friday at the Gallery, Moss Street. A preliminary sale will be held between 4 and 6 p.m., open to all presenting Gallery membership cards. Between 7 and 9 p.m. the sale will be open to the public, with a further public session on Saturday morning.

The Victoria Real Estate Board's annual dinner and meeting will be held next Wednesday in the Empress Hotel at 7 p.m.

A representative group of Victoria St. John Ambulance workers will attend the annual meeting in Vancouver on Saturday.

Rev. Dean Northcote Burke will be the speaker at the dinner meeting, while J. J. Carson, vice-president and provincial commissioner, will speak at the morning session.

CHOIRBOYS TO CLIMB FOR SPECIAL SERVICE

Choirboys of Christ Church Cathedral will mark the Ascensiontide on Thursday with hymns from the tower overlooking the city.

This practice is traditional in Europe and is gaining in popularity here.

Service will begin at 8 a.m. as the boys start to climb the spiral stairs leading to the apse, and by 8.15 people on the streets below will be able to hear them singing in praise of the ascended Lord.

Traffic in nearby streets will be diverted so that people standing on the sidewalk below may hear.

CITY DOCTOR IN 4TH YEAR OF DEEP COMA

Dr. Anne Steel today passed her third year in hospital—still unconscious as the result of a riding fall in the Okanagan May 6, 1956.

Condition of the 39-year-old woman, a Victoria physician, was reported at noon as "unchanged."

A hospital official said Dr. Steel is receiving "the very finest nursing care."

She is attended day and night, yet never shows a flicker of consciousness.

Born in Scotland, Dr. Steel was a graduate of the University of Edinburgh. She took her medical degree in Vancouver before practising in Victoria.

A navy helicopter fluttered out of the blue to offer aid as firemen fought a $650 shed fire on rural Wilkinson Road, one of two fires that killed four pets in Saanich Tuesday.

Three rabbits perished when flames from the shed at 4408 Wilkinson spread to straw in nearby hutches, destroying stored hay, sawdust and garden tools in their path, at 10.15 a.m.

About $1,000 damage was caused to the home of Norman Hyde, 1670 Mortimer, where only a house cat was at home as fire, believed started by an electric sump drainage pump, spread through a wall to an upper bedroom at 2.45 p.m. The cat died.

At the first blaze, fire sprang to life when 4½-year-old David Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Smith, played in hay with matches, then ran to tell his mother what he had done.

Mrs. Smith called firemen, who arrived as flames licked at a corner of the adjoining house and heavy smoke billowed over the Smith home.

The helicopter, manoeuvring over the navy yard at Esquimalt, was attracted by the smoke and flew over to land in a field on the Smith property.

A crewman ran to offer help to firemen who were laying in a hose line, but aid was not needed.

Three rabbits survived the blaze, which did not destroy the hutches.

A neighbor saw smoke coming from the Hyde house and called firemen. They said the fire appeared to have started when the pump motor, on which some old clothes were piled, became overheated.

Damage was mainly from heat and smoke.

B.C. Line Won't Try For City Run

B.C. Air Lines today dropped out of competition for the franchise to serve the Vancouver-Victoria-Seattle route now operated by Trans-Canada Air Lines.

The firm said it had notified the Air Transport Board it was withdrawing its opposition to an application by Pacific Western Airlines to operate the route if TCA abandons it.

The decision came exactly four weeks after BCAL was sold by Paul Tak and F. Maurice McGregor to Northwest Industries Ltd. of Edmonton for an undisclosed amount.

Mr. Tak and Mr. McGregor purchased the airline in September, 1956, from William B. Sylvester of Victoria. He founded the operation in 1944.

Third carrier in the battle to operate the tri-city run is Okanagan Helicopters Ltd. of Vancouver. It has advised the Air Transport Board it will apply to operate the run at a future date. Okanagan has notified the board it opposes any change in the present tri-city service.

THE HEAT'S OFF SO POODLE TELLS ALL

'I Started Oak Bay's Anti-Dog War'

By KIKKI
(As Told to Tony Dickason)

Now it can be told.

I'm the dog that started the anti-dog war in Oak Bay.

My name is Kikki. I am four years old and a French poodle, though my name is Dutch origin and I was born in Kingston, Jamaica.

Reason I'm in print today is that a kind Oak Bay policeman told me my mistress won't be taken to court if I get off my leash. There have been no summonses for the past two weeks, he said, although 34 of my cohorts got their bosses into trouble since March 1 by just being dogs.

In other words, the heat is off us Oak Bay hounds.

And all I can say is, it's about time.

I've never bitten anyone in my life, and don't intend to.

And I love children and cars.

And I love gardens.

These interests have led to complaints.

Not only do I love to ride in cars, I also love chasing the silly things. It is a passion with me, like stamp collecting.

I've been hit by cars—broken ribs, yet—but being a gentleman of character this has not kept me down.

My mistress, a faithful friend, knows my character full well.

She says: "This is the dog that has caused most of the trouble in Oak Bay."

Trouble? Okay, so I like freedom. Every mature dog does. We even fight for it.

Has anybody ever heard of a democracy for dogs? About time they did.

I live about three bounds from Willows Beach. Yet if the officials have their way, I can't even run down the beach and enjoy myself. Might kick sand, they say, in somebody's lunch.

What, I ask myself, is a beach lunch without sand?

I'M FAMOUS

Heck, I'm really famous. People have even written letters to the newspaper about me!

I'm a solid 30 pounds, fighting fit.

But I'm up against a problem: If I'm tied up I miss the kids, and chasing those seagulls on the beach. If I'm allowed to run loose, I still love those crazy cars, and people object.

Not being a down-deep philosopher, I'd still say we all have drawbacks.

Liberal Chiefs Back Perrault

But Gibbs Still Eyes Leadership

By PETE LOUDON, Times Political Reporter

At least a two-way race for leadership of the B.C. Liberal Party appeared to be shaping today.

Following a meeting in Vancouver Tuesday of district association presidents, it was reported there is a strong support for Ray Perrault, 33, executive-secretary and organizer of the party, as next leader.

The other possible candidate is Oak Bay M.L.A. P. A. "Archie" Gibbs, who has the backing of Victoria M.L.A. and Liberal House leader, George Gregory.

Although there was a strong move earlier to draft Mr. Gregory into the position recently vacated by Arthur Laing, he definitely declined nomination.

But Mr. Gibbs, despite an indication earlier he would accept nomination, now says he will refrain from making a decision until talking with Mr. Laing.

Mr. Perrault has made no comment despite the reports that district leaders in many sections of the province are backing him.

HOPE FOR LAING

General reluctance is laid to the fact many Liberals, including those named, are still hopeful Mr. Laing will reconsider and allow his name to stand. In that event, Mr. Perrault states, he definitely will not seek the post.

The presidents' meeting held in Vancouver Tuesday night was a private meeting and deliberations were not made public.

It was learned a great measure of pro-Laing sentiment was expressed. But some of his strongest supporters lean now toward Mr. Perrault because they believe Mr. Laing's health to be a major consideration.

MAY 15, 16

The question of leadership and election policy will be settled at the party's convention at University of British Columbia May 15 and 16.

Mayor Tom Alsbury of Vancouver will welcome the delegates. About 500 are expected to attend.

Featured speaker of the convention will be national Liberal Federation president Major-General Bruce Matthews of Willowdale, Ont.—a well-known Toronto insurance executive.

He will address delegates at a convention dinner at Mount Pleasant Branch Canadian Legion, Saturday, May 16.

The convention will have for its guidance on policy decisions, the results of a province-wide questionnaire poll. Officials say there will be "less speeches and more work" as policy ideas are threshed.

A total of about 80 delegates are expected to attend from the Greater Victoria area, including Vancouver Island vice-president of the provincial executive, Arthur H. Cox. Bob Ellis, provincial president of the Young Liberals' Association will lead a delegation of six from his group.

Mr. Gregory and Mr. Gibbs are expected to deal with unrest among North Vancouver Liberals over the acceptance into the Liberal party of J. Mel Bryan, North Vancouver M.L.A.

Mr. Bryan joined the Liberals during the last session, raising the total elected membership to three. He was elected as a Social Credit member but became an independent in 1958 when he disagreed with government handling of the Sommers case.

'Big O' Purchased By Vancouver Firm

The former RCN cruiser Ontario—"most travelled ship in the Canadian Navy"—has new owners today.

But the destination of her final voyage has yet to be decided.

Successful bidders for the ship, offered for sale by War Assets Disposal Corp., is Cattermole-Tretheway Contractors Ltd., 837 West Hastings Street, Vancouver.

UNDER $500,000

Price has not been announced, but is believed to be under $500,000. The Ontario cost about $35,000,000 when she was completed by Harland and Wolff at Belfast in 1945.

E. A. Tretheway, a director of the company which now owns the ship, said it has not been decided where it will be scrapped.

A condition of sale was that it must be scrapped in Canada.

Cattermole-Tretheway Ltd. does not have its own ship-breaking facilities.

Mr. Tretheway is president of Tretheway-Industries Ltd., shingle manufacturers and loggers, and of Tretheway-Wells Timber.

R. J. Cattermole is president of Cattermole Timber Co. and Cattermole Logging Co.

The Ontario, an 8,800-ton light cruiser, is berthed at the Seward Defence Jetty, Esquimalt, where she has lain since paying off in October, 1958.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. If a person receiving the old age pension leaves Canada for a four month holiday, does the pension cease while they are out of Canada? A.M.J.

A. Yes, Proper procedure is to contact the Old Age Security Division, Federal Bldg., Room 306. The division will give you a "border crossing letter" which will be stamped by customs on departure and return. This letter is the basis of pension suspension and re-start.

Q. Is it possible to get in touch with the "Blue Blood Social Register" or Leonard Knox, editor, of Toronto? Interested.

A. Write Leonard Knott, Editorial Associates, Montreal, P.Q.

Anyone wishing a question answered by the Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor, Questions and answers will be published daily.

SO EVERYBODY CAN SEE

Civic Ceremony On Beacon Hill

Queen Elizabeth will receive Victoria district civic leaders in one of the area's prime beauty spots—the crest of Beacon Hill—rather than at City Hall during the two-day royal visit here in July.

Later, from the vantage point of Government House, the Queen and Prince Philip will watch units of the Royal Canadian Navy create a fireworks wonderland in Strait of Juan de Fuca.

Both spectacles are planned for fullest appreciation of the public as well.

Full details of the royal visit to Victoria, July 16 and 17, were obtained by The Times today.

The royal couple, after arriving on the Island at Nanaimo aboard HMCS Assiniboine, will drive over the Malahat to arrive in Victoria at 3.30 p.m. Thursday, July 16. They will proceed directly to Government House and remain there until 5 p.m.

At 5.40 p.m. the Queen and Prince Philip will arrive at the Legislative Buildings where Premier W. A. C. Bennett will greet them on the steps. The royal party will enter the buildings to receive cabinet ministers and MLAs in the Legislative Assembly.

The ceremonies are expected to take 20 minutes. The royal couple there will walk to a saluting base on Belleville Street.

The walk will take Her Majesty past the monument commemorating her great-grandmother Queen Victoria.

A tri-service military parade will take place with the royal party scheduled to depart at 6.15 p.m. for a tour of the city.

Route will be via Belleville and Government to Herald.

CANADA OKAYS USAF GENERAL AS NORAD BOSS

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Pearson today announced the Canadian government's concurrence in the appointment of Gen. Laurence S. Kuter of the United States Air Force as commander of NORAD.

Kuter, 53, former commander of the Far East Air Force, succeeds Gen. Earle E. Parridge, who retired July 31. The appointment was made by President Eisenhower with the Canadian government's concurrence.

Mr. Pearson said Air Marshal C. R. Slemmon of the RCAF will continue as deputy commander of the North American Air Defence Command.

AT OTTAWA

Actor, Farmer Dancer to Dine With Queen

OTTAWA (CP)—Governor-General Massey has invited 35 Canadians from all walks of life to have dinner with Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip at Government House July 1.

Except for the formal dress—white tie for the men and gowns for the women—the affair sounds as though it will be another Dominion Day family dinner.

The formal attire is the Queen's own idea. She wants to dress up for Dominion Day. But there's nothing about the guest list that suggests stiff-necked formality.

It includes a hard-rock hockey star, a gentle ballerina, a tough labor leader, a couple of missionaries, an actor, an atomic scientist, a woman fish packer, a president of a big corporation, a champion skier, a newspaperman and a university president.

An announcement from Government House said today the guests were invited by Mr. Massey, on behalf of the Queen. This suggests that Mr. Massey—who is said to know all the guests except one—prepared the list, with an eye to keeping the dinner "en famille" for the Queen and some of her Canadian subjects.

The guests, a government official said, represent not the titular heads of various organizations as such, but Canadians who do the work and in some cases—provide the spark for the various fields of Canadian activity.

The list includes only two from official circles—Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Opposition Leader Pearson, and their wives.

The rest of the list: Industry: Fraser Bruce, president of the Aluminum Company of Canada, and Mrs. Bruce, Montreal; A. E. Grauer, chairman and president of the British Columbia Power Corporation Limited, and Mrs. Grauer, Vancouver; Mrs. G. Penny, owner of a fish packing plant and fishing fleet, Ramea Island, Nfld.

Universities: Claude Bissell, president of the University of Toronto, and Mrs. Bissell, Toronto.

2½-MILL TAX BOOST FOR CITY

City council was expected to strike a tax rate of 50 mills today, up some 2½ mills from 1958.

The surprisingly low increase—a six-mill boost was forecast—would reflect entirely the jump in school costs this year over which council has no control.

Virtually no increase in the general purpose rate was expected after aldermen slashed $49,000 from the estimates this morning.

A total of about $90,000, equivalent to one mill, was to come off the ordinary expenditures and a further 2½-mill cut on special expenditures was anticipated.

NEEDS A QUEEN

Sad Shah Lonely?

LONDON (UPI)—The Shah of Iran rode through London today in a Cinderella-style coach. But the seat beside him was empty, perhaps symbolic of a vacant throne and an empty heart.

A king needs a queen and this fact was never more evident than in the Shah's elegant procession of state from Buckingham Palace to the Guildhall in London.

The 39-year-old monarch waved and smiled with courtly dignity at the crowds of Londoners who turned out to greet him on the second day of his state visit here. But there was a glimmer of sadness on the Shah's handsome face.

He did not look at the empty seat on his left even when acknowledging the applause of the sidewalk watchers.

FIRE CHIEF DISPUTED

SOS Signals Heard From Norwegian Ship

(See Also Page 5)

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Point Grey marine radio station and the United States coast guard in Seattle said today they received two SOS messages from the Norwegian freighter when the Norwegian freighter was hit by an explosion that tore apart her midsection.

Vancouver Fire Chief Hugh Bird and his deputy, Elmer Sly, told city council here Tuesday night that the vessel did not send out an SOS; only a call for aid.

Chief Bird, who said he was unable to send the city fireboat outside limits because of regulations and red tape, told council in a special report that two other vessels passed by the Ferngulf at the time of the incident.

Commenting today, Thomas How, department of transport regional director of air services, said many ships do not keep their radios tuned to the 500-kilocycle distress frequency while in port.

What them outlaw Saanich sewers need is an underground organization.

It's just nip an' tuck whether y' git yer income tax rebate in time t' pay yer property tax.

DANGER SPOT

SEPTIC TANK POLLUTION

Health Hazard Faces Saanich

Pollution of soil and water in open ditches is spreading like a "cancer" in all non-sewer urban areas of Saanich—creating a serious health hazard.

This warning was issued today by Neville Life, municipal engineer.

Conditions for the spread of enteric diseases, including typhoid, exist in all densely populated areas not serviced by a sewer system, he said.

The engineer, who conducted an extensive survey on municipal sewerage, advocates in a report to council, the installation of sewers in all urban areas of the municipality.

"The problem of pollution due to septic tank effluent is serious and becoming difficult to cope with," he said. "The only answer is sewer installations."

He reported that hundreds of home owners are complaining of septic tank effluent seeping into the basements or of polluted water in ditches in thickly populated areas.

Among districts mentioned are the Glanford-Baker Street area, Whiteside and Tillicum, Kingsbury Road, near Mount Tolmie, Fairburn, Nicholson, and the entire area east of Shelbourne and north of Cedar Hill Cross Road.

LONG-ARMED BOOKIE GROUNDED

HARRIS, N. J. (AP)—A crane operator at the Otis Elevator Company plant has been charged with picking up numbers bets as he passed overhead in the cab of his crane.

Allan P. Hawkins, 48, was arrested Monday and charged with possession of lottery slips.

Police said Hawkins would pick up the bets as he rode the crane through the shops, lowering a tin cup on a string to employees to place their bets.

Weekly Benefits To Remain Same

OTTAWA (CP)—The cost of unemployment insurance is going up.

Under proposed government amendments, premiums on the insurance will rise about 30 per cent from present weekly contributions. Weekly rates of benefit—the maximum you can draw weekly if unemployed—will remain virtually unchanged.

These and other changes, expanding the army of insured workers and increasing the maximum length of insurance, are incorporated in government legislation now before the Commons.

Cost of the weekly premiums are borne on a 50-50 basis by the employer and employee. The bill made public today, shows, for example, that total contributions for a person earning $51 a week would be 72 cents instead of the present 56. The weekly rate of benefit would remain at $21 a week for a single person and $30 a week for a person with dependents. Rates of contributions are increased all along the line.

CONCESSIONS

But the concessions that will aid employees include an increase in the maximum length of insurance to 52 weeks from 36 and an increased allowance for incidental earnings without reducing the rate of benefits.

The army of insurable wage-earners would be expanded to those making a maximum of $5,460 a year from the present ceiling of $4,800.

Another change is that unemployment insurance protection would be extended to prison inmates serving up to two years. This protection now is available to those serving only up to 44 weeks.

CAN DRAW MORE

The proposed new scale of benefits shows that the maximum weekly amount a person can draw when unemployed will be increased to $36 from $30 for an employee with dependents and to $27 from $23 for a single worker. This rise is to cover the new category of insured workers—those earning between $4,800 and $5,460 a year.

But the scale also shows that the average payments in contributions will have to be higher just to maintain the existing scale of benefits for the average worker.

For example, the present weekly contribution is 58 to 60 cents to buy maximum weekly insurance of $23 for a single worker and $30 for a worker.

U.K. Tips Trade Balance

LONDON (CP)—For the first time since 1865, British exports to the United States exceeded imports in March.

Ever since that year—when Lee surrendered to Grant ending the American Civil War and President Lincoln was assassinated—the balance of British-American trade has been in favor of the United States.

But an announcement Tuesday night by the official British board of trade reversed this pattern.

Its figures showed Britain sold the U.S. goods valued at $28,164,901 ($78,861,722) in March. In return Britain bought only $24,547,683 ($68,733,514) worth.

This one-month trade surplus wiped out the deficit of January and February and put Britain ahead $7,527,492 at the end of the first quarter of this year's British-American trade.

Tax-Sharing Parley

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming informed the Commons today that he has proposed Monday, July 6, as the opening date for a federal-provincial conference of finance ministers on tax-sharing arrangements.

Teamsters' Merger?

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times says the 85,000-member Bakery and Confectionery Workers International Union may merge with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters headed by James R. Hoffa.

COMMONS ORDERS PROBE

'Fantastic' Moving Bill

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons public accounts committee decided today to call witnesses in an effort to find out why it cost $314 to have an RCAF officer's furniture and effects moved half a mile.

Richard A. Bell (PC, Carleton) said the amount is "simply outrageous."

"The last time I moved it cost me $25, and I went farther than half a mile," said Mr. Bell.

"This type of thing is just wasting the taxpayer's money."

The committee was discussing a case mentioned in the auditor-general's last report involving an RCAF officer, ordered to move from one building in Rockcliffe air station to another half a mile away.

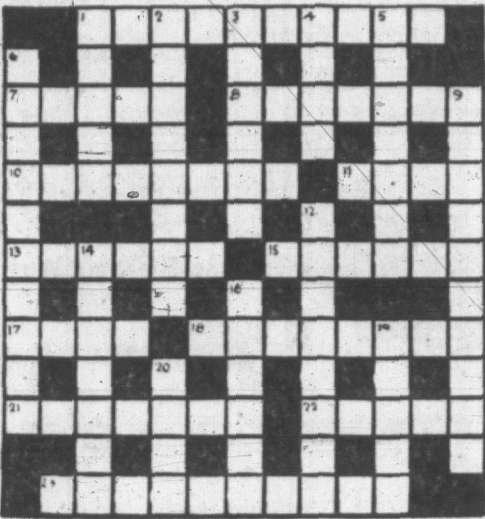

If a civilian were moved from one part of a city to another, he would have to pay his own expenses. A distinction thus was drawn between civilian and serviceman.

Several committee members including Harold Winch (GCF, Vancouver, East) and David J. Walker (PC, Toronto, Rose-dale) used the word "fantastic" in describing the moving bill.

SOLUTION FRIDAY

Ask Andy

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions be asked to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Susan Carter, aged 11, of Santaquin, Utah, for her question:

Does a Frog Hold His Breath Under Water?

The frog is an amphibian, a land and water dweller. His skinfolds include the toads and salamanders. Some 350 million years ago the first back-boned animal left the sea to live on the dry land. This fellow was an amphibian. Mother Nature smiled on this great victory. She rewarded the amphibians with certain gifts which they have to this day. One of these gifts is a special skin which can absorb or breathe oxygen from the water. So, when you see a frog squatting under the water for 10 or 20 minutes, he is not holding his breath. He is breathing through his skin.

All amphibians begin life as fish, during which time they breathe oxygen from the water through fish gills. Certain salamanders keep their gills and remain fish all their lives. Some give up their gills but do not grow lungs. These fellows breathe through their skin, especially through the skin lining of the mouth and throat. Most amphibians trade their baby gills for adult lungs.

Frogs are among this last group. The teen-age frog has a pair of lungs for breathing air. He can live on the dry land. He also has the wonderful skin of the amphibian which can absorb free oxygen from the water. This, of course, is a gift he inherited from his brave, remote ancestor, a fellow who left his footprints in the mud of the young Appalachian mountains.

The amphibian skin contains tiny glands which give off a shiny substance called mucus. This mucus evaporates in the air, and this evaporation makes the skin cooler than the air around the amphibian. When you pick up a frog or toad who has been sitting in the air his skin feels cool and dry. In this condition the amphibian is breathing air through his lungs.

Drinks From Dewy Grass

The frog or toad cannot absorb moisture through his skin from damp and humid air, but he can from the damp ground and the dewy grass. Toads, who do not return to the water as adults, get all their drinking water by this process. Frogs absorb their drinking water through the skin when they return to the pond. Amphibians never take a drink of water through the mouth as we do.

U.S. Ban On Trucks Tightened

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Trucking Associations said today that products from the British crown colony of Hong Kong cannot be trucked through United States territory on trips between Canadian points if any part of the goods originated in Communist China.

This is the latest development in a Canada-United States controversy over transportation of goods from Communist China through the U.S. between points in Canada. The federal government has protested a U.S. ban on such shipments.

Grandmother Attacked

NEW YORK (AP)—A 62-year-old grandmother said a young Negro tried to rape her in her bedroom today, declaring he was revengeing the lynch-mob murder of Mack Charles Parker in Mississippi. She told police she fought him off and that he fled after gagging and tying her with her stockings and robbing her of $35.

STEP ASIDE, HOSE NOSE!

HOSE NOSE?

THIS HEAP NO-GOOD BATTLE! WE AIN'T EVEN SHOT ONE PALEFACE YET!

CRAZY GUILT SPEAK TRUE.

SOON SUN GO DOWN.. AND INJUN NO FIGHT AFTER SUNDOWN.

WHY NOT CRAZY? I'VE WONDERED ABOUT THAT.

CHIEF SAY HE WON'T PAY OVERTIME!

CONGRATULATIONS, ZING! YOU FINALLY GOT YOUR NAME ON THE DOOR!

RIGHT, DILLY! I'M ZOOMING LIKE A JET! PRETTY SOON I'LL BE THE BIGGEST GUN AROUND HERE!

YOU'D BETTER BE CAREFUL! IT COULD BE DANGEROUS!

DANGEROUS? WHY?

WELL, THE BIGGEST GUNS GET FIRED WITH THE LOUDEST BANG!

KENT! WHERE ARE YOU, KENT?

MY HUSBAND! HE'S MISSING. HE HE DISAPPEARED AT THE SEASIDE.

YOU SURE MRS. HARDY?

ISN'T HERE! OH MY DARLING KENT! WHERE ARE YOU? UH??

LET'S WALK DOWN TO RIELLY'S FILLING STATION AND CALL THE POLICE! SAYS THE MAILMAN, KENT'S BOUND TO BE SOME PLACE.

NANCY--- WHAT DOES "STRATEGY" MEAN?

I'LL SHOW YOU

AUNT FRITZ!-- CAN I HAVE FIVE NEW TOYS AND $20 FOR MY PIGGY BANK?

NO

WELL, THEN WILL YOU TREAT SLUGGO AND ME TO AN ICE CREAM CONE?

OH, I SUPPOSE SO

THAT'S STRATEGY

OKAY, SANYER, LET'S TEST YOUR "WOW" SUIT.

HOW DO YOU FEEL IN IT?

LIKE A PACKED SARDINE.

YEAH, BUT UNLESS WE "PACK" YOU IN THIS NEW SPACE SUIT DEVELOPED FOR THE NAVY AND THE AIR FORCE, YOU COULDN'T SURVIVE AT THE ALTITUDE OUR NEW MILITARY JETS CAN REACH.

IF THE PRESSURIZED CABIN OF ONE OF OUR HIGH FLYING JETS SPRING A LEAK ABOVE 30,000 FEET, YOU COULDN'T BREATHE; YOU'D LOSE CONSCIOUSNESS AROUND 63,000 FEET YOUR BLOOD WOULD BOIL.

WITHOUT THIS SPACE SUIT TO FURNISH ARTIFICIAL PRESSURE, YOU'D GASP AND DIE IN SECONDS, LIKE A FISH OUT OF WATER.

NO! I SHOULD SAY NOT!

THE NERVE!

WHAT DID OUR BORROWING NEIGHBOR WANT THIS TIME, HORACE?

HE WANTED ME TO ISSUE HIM A CREDIT CARD!

FOR THE LAST TIME!! QUIT POKIN' YOUR HEAD IN HERE WITHOUT KNOCKIN' ON THE DOOR!!

—BUT YOU DON'T HAVE A DOOR!!

THEN RING DOORBELL!

THERE AIN'T ANY DOORBELL EITHER GOOFY!

OKAY! I'LL LET IT GO THIS TIME — BUT DON'T LET IT HAPPEN AGAIN!

I'VE GOTTA PUT UP WITH HIS GOT THERE'S NUBBY ELSE AROUND HERE TO PLAY WITH!

IT'S GETTING LATE!

YES, WHY PAST MY BEDTIME, G'NITE, CRY!

DO YOU THINK IT'S WISE, LEAVING OXY ALL ALONE THERE IN THE LABORATORY?

AW, NOTHING THERE TO HURT IM!

IT'S NOT HIM I'M FRETTING ABOUT, IT'S OUR EQUIPMENT...

YOU KNOW HOW CRAZY HE IS ABOUT THE TIME-MACHINE, AGENCY YOU AFRAID HE'LL TRY TO OPERATE IT?

AFRAID? NOPE! I'M COUNTING ON IT!

MR. TRAIL, I TOLD YOU YESTERDAY...

IF YOU'RE GOING FOR A WALK, MISS BLAKEY, I'LL BE GLAD TO GO WITH YOU!
